Mayor casts veto in ambulance deal

By JIM CARRAVALLAH

Romulus Mayor Hyle Carmichael has vetoed the March 27 City Council action canceling the city contract with Superior Ambulance Company.

The council rescinded a motion made at an emergency meeting March 10 approving a contract between Romulus and Superior, pending ratification of the city attorney, for ambulance protection at a cost of $4,200 per year.

The action was taken after General Ambulance, which offers service for Garden City Osteopathic Hospital, and Redford Township, undercut the Superior contract by $200.

"My concern in this matter is that the city has given its word to Superior," explained Carmichael last Monday, "and now the council has gone back on that word."

"How does that look to someone coming to the city to offer its services? What the hell is a contract with the city if the council turns around on it?"

The council had until Tuesday night to override the veto. A 5-2 vote is needed to override a mayor's veto, and it was unlikely the votes could be obtained, since councilman Edward Bizek and William Oakley voted against the motion to rescind the Superior contract a week ago, and Councilman Fred J. Block appears to be in favor of the Superior contract.

Councilman James Stewart made the motion to rescind approval of the Superior Ambulance contract, stating, "General Ambulance will offer service at a cost of $200 less than the Superior contract and will locate an ambulance in Romulus, providing we find a suitable place."

Councilman William Oakley challenged him, stating, "I happened to be at that meeting, and Councilman Stewart wasn't."

"General Ambulance said they'd come into Romulus with ambulances, not just one."

"I just wonder why it's taken three weeks to revise or amend one contract, and 35 minutes to negotiate another."

Stewart said that he couldn't make the March 10 meeting because he was called out of town and the meeting was called at the last minute.

The council voted 4-2 on the rescinding motion with Bizek and Oakley voting against it. Bizek then made a motion to give Superior Ambulance a chance to bid on the new contract with General Ambulance, but the motion, which was seconded by Oakley, was turned down 4-2.

General Ambulance was awarded the new contract by a

4-1 vote, with Bizek abstaining and Oakley voting "no."

Stewart, supported by Councilman Brooker Edwards, moved that the General Ambulance Contract be ratified at a cost of $4,000 per year, for one year of service.

Carmichael's action leaves the city with two ambulance contracts.

City employees get wage increases

Romulus city employees will be paid wage increases they have awaited since last July.

The city council approved raises stipulated in the July, 1971 contract at its March 27 meeting, following a presentation from the labor relations attorney which said the action wasn't illegal, and would not be rescinded by the pay board, unless the city reported it.

The council began considering approving the wage increases in December, when the Nixon administration wage price freeze moved into its Phase III, which calls for a primarily voluntary prohibition against "unreasonable wage increases."

The council asked for a city attorney's opinion on whether the wage increases can be paid, and upon receiving an opinion which stated the city shouldn't pay the raises, heard an appeal from the Teamsters Union.

AFTER THE appeal, March 7, the city attorney reconsidered his opinion, and decided that the wages could be paid.

The council voted 4-to-0, with two abstaining, on a motion by Councilman Edmund W. Bizek, supported by Councilman William Oakley, to pay the six per cent and six and a half per cent increases authorized in the contract. Council President Jimmie C. Raspberry and Councilman Brooker Edwards abstained on the action.

Councilman Fred J. Block was absent from the meeting. "It is no doubt that our people are far behind the scale of area communities," said Bizek, prior to making the motion.

"I'D LIKE to have the mayor notify the pay board that we are going to implement the pay increases immediately."

The increases should be included in the next pay check of the employees, based on a period starting last Monday. No retroactive pay will be provided in the payment.

Raspberry, as late as last Monday, called to order the secretaries in city hall to hold up the wage increase payment until the city's auditors had a chance to check it, but was overruled by Mayor Hyle Carmichael.

"TELL THEM to follow the motion exactly," said Carmichael in response to Raspberry's action. "It doesn't provide anything for checking with the auditors first."

The increase had been held up since December on a request by the council that the city's auditors check the situation. The auditors report came earlier this month.

County appeals jail sentences

The separation-of-powers conflict between the Wayne County Board of Commissioners and Wayne Circuit Court is before the Michigan Supreme Court.

The commissioners appealed to the high court after Presiding Circuit Judge Joseph A. Sullivan March 8 sentenced 20 commissioners to indefinite jail terms for balking at an order to fund a labor contract negotiated between Circuit Court and its probation officers.

Commissioners who refused to vote funds for the contract charged that the court usurped the legislative function in negotiating the pact and in ordering that it be funded.

The Supreme Court ordered that all proceedings in Wayne Circuit Court be stayed pending its decision. The high court granted appeal of the Jan. 5 order of Circuit Judge Neal Fitzgerald that the county board fund the contract, plus Judge Sullivan's contempt-of-court findings and jail sentences against the 20 commissioners.

Judge Sullivan had ordered the 20 to surrender at the jail on March 19, but stayed his order after appeals were filed with the State Court of Appeals and the Supreme Court.

Contempt proceedings against county commissioners who refused to fund a contract negotiated between Detroit Recorder's Court and its probation officers were adjourned indefinitely March 26 after the Supreme Court agreed to consider the appeal.

Circuit Judge Joseph Moynihan said he was adjourning the case "at the suggestion of the Supreme Court."

The board of commissioners has offered to negotiate with the union representing probation officers at both courts — Local 1905 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO.

One more unit of the Sheriff's force will be patrolling Romulus.

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners last week approved expansion of the Sheriff's force which provides police service for the city.

One unit—consisting of a patrol car and a crew on a 24-hour basis—will be added to the two units already patrolling the city.

The city will pay the cost of the service. The unit will cost $138,000 for the balance of this year.

For the second time in a month, additional staff for Wayne County General Hospital has been approved by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners as a move toward achieving reaccreditation of the hospital.

The county board, meeting March 29, approved the hiring of 18 registered nurses, five practical nurses, and an attendant at the hospital's long-term care facility.

Also approved was the hiring of the Arthur Andersen & Co. accountants and management consultants, to develop and implement improvements in a number of management and record-keeping systems at the hospital. The project is expected to take two years.

A SHORTAGE of registered nurses and other personnel, plus inadequate record-keeping, were listed as "major deficiencies" by the national Joint new junior high school, in addition to seventh and eighth graders.

The amount of the bond issue approved by the board includes cost of construction, site purchases where necessary and equipment for the buildings.

Also included is the purchase of portable buildings to relieve classroom shortage until new buildings are ready for occupancy.

In other action, the board approved teacher contracts. A breakdown of personnel figures shows that three teachers are on first-year probation; 34 on second-year probation; 24 advanced to tenure; 213 teachers are on continuing tenure; and three are teaching on vocational certificates.

Three retirement requests and two resignations have been approved by the board and one teacher was not recommended for a contract.

Directory progressing

The Romulus Jaycees have asked the Roman to indicate to all readers that preparation of the second annual city directory is now in progress.

Businessmen in the area may expect to be contacted shortly concerning participation in this year's publication which covers the last half of 1973 and first half of 1974.

Last year, nearly 8,000 free copies were distributed in the area based on mailing addresses, with multiple copies available at business locations, City Hall, library and other places.

In addition to a directory of the businesses, and services available locally, the booklet provides multiple data as to organizations, churches, clubs, maps and the like to help the Romulus area residents.

The Jaycees indicate that last year's production was overwhelmingly received, and that this will spur them on to even greater efforts this year.

Huron officials get 8 per cent pay hike

The electors of Huron Township have granted an eight per cent pay increase to the township's elected officials.

The salary hikes granted the officials was approved by the voters at their annual township meeting held last Saturday.

The pay raises are retroactive to March 21.

Township Supervisor George W. Moore's salary was increased from $12,775 to $13,800. Other increases include: Clerk Mrs. Mary Lou Carey's from $9,360 to $10,000;

Treasurer Edward Helwig's from $6,560 to $6,970 and the four township trustees' from $2,520 to $2,725.

Other business approved at the annual meeting included: —the assignment of Police Chief Harold Ashby to a full-time work schedule. Ashby, in charge of the nine-member part-time department, was assigned to an eight-hour shift to handle a growing number of daytime burglary and vandalism reports.

The decision to assign Ashby to a full-time schedule was to prepare the township for the possible withdrawal in August of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department patrol services to the township, an official said.

—A vote to use $26,000 the township received in federal revenue-sharing funds this year to expand one of three fire halls and possibly buy a rescue truck and other fire equipment for the fire department.

On March 15 the board of commissioners approved the addition of 44 registered nurses and 30 clerks at Wayne County General.

Among other major actions, the county board took several steps to improve drug abuse programs.

Also approved was an application for state and federal funds to establish a $474,083 drug rehabilitation and after care program at the Detroit House of Correction. The county will provide $2,926 in local matching funds.

Area bank marks 60th anniversary April 9-13

The 60th anniversary of the first chartered bank in Romulus is being celebrated April 9-13 by Manufacturers Bank at its two Romulus offices. "The milestone," stated second vice president Leo M. Kalota, "gives the bank a chance to tell its story of operating as the oldest financial institution in the community."

"The historical information that follows," he added, "was accumulated by my assistant, Miss Vira Petrask, who has 38 years of service at our Goddard Road Office."

It was March 28, 1913, history dictates, that The Romulus State Bank with $10,053.00 in its capital stock account first opened its doors.

OFFICIALS of the new bank included Orson W. Bird, director; Louis Koch, director, secretary and cashier; Richard Holland, director and vice president; James R. Taylor, director and president; and Edward Moore, director.

The building still exists and is located on the present day site of Audrey's Beauty Shop on Goddard Road. It is interesting to note that the first savings account was opened on March 29 for Onnalee Taylor, daughter of the president, Miss Taylor, who became Mrs. A.A. Wall, still resides in the area, on Huron River Drive.

Many names recorded on

THE "OLD" ROMULUS STATE BANK BUILDING — This was the bank's quarters from April, 1923, to April, 1952. It may now be recognized as the Kidwell Drug Store at 36504 the early books of the bank are now only memories. However, Mrs. William R. (Rena) Newson opened an account on April 1, 1913, and still maintains it sixty years later.

The first report of condition dated April 4, 1913 showed assets of $54,089.66. Another report of condition made in 1915 is unusual in that it contains a description of all bills and coins held in the bank which included an amount of gold coins totaling $3,320.00.

KOCH'S TERM as cashier was very brief, and Mr. Delmer Rood was elected cashier with the assistance of Mrs. Minnie Pennie on April 12, 1913. Rood served as cashier until March 15, 1917 and again from June 2, 1919 until August 1, 1923. During his two year absence, Alfred L. Bower was the acting cashier.

From 1917 to 1919, the bank joined whole-heartedly in support of World War I efforts by selling Liberty Loan Bonds to individuals.

About that time, Miss Ermina Emery was hired as assistant cashier. Miss Emery worked with the bank until May 1921 and was again rehired in January 1922. Many present day local Romulus residents will recognize her as their Bibbins street neighbor, Mrs. Robert N. Bird.

In May, 1919, the Board of Directors approved the purchase of a burglar alarm system for $1,000.00. Alarm systems then were sensitive and prone to false alarms as borne out by the following excerpt from the minutes of December 14, 1920:

"MOVED and carried that Ira F. Johnson be given a key to the building and the vault door combination for the purpose of entering the vault to shut off the alarm bells of the burglar alarm system when said system gets out of order during the night hours. Mr. Johnson to be paid one dollar for each time he shuts off the system."

While Rood was cashier, he was assisted by his wife, Jeannie. Folklore tells us that she was an extremely fastidious person both in her home and on the job. In fact, she took her iron to the bank to press wrinkled bills so that the currency drawer would always look neat.

During this time, the board approved plans for a two story building with brick and tile outer walls. Occupancy of this building began in 1923 and continued until April 22, 1952. The building may now be recognized as Kidwell Drug Store at 36504 Goddard Road.

On May 22, 1926, the entire community was shaken by a robbery of the bank and practically the entire town went out in pursuit of the robbers.

GRATITUDE for the valuable service rendered by the people of Romulus was expressed by the board with a cash contribution of $500 to the Romulus Improvement Association.

The Thirties and the Bank Holiday caused the bank a temporary setback. However, a reorganized bank opened on Aug. 1, 1935 with James A. Carmichael, president; Mr. Taylor, cashier; Leo D. Roach, vice president and assistant cashier; and Leona Durkee as assistant cashier.

The history of the bank continued with the construction of new banking quarters. With everything new but the vault door and the "sentimental" directors table, the new bank building officially opened to the public on April 22, 1952, on the northwest corner of Goddard Road and Shook Street. Officers staffing the bank then were: Mr. Roach, executive vice president; Hyle J. Carmichael, cashier; and Vira D. Petraska, assistant cashier.

As the bank grew, the benefits of an association with a larger financial institution became evident. A merger was negotiated and on Jan. 1, 1960, The Romulus State Bank became a part of the Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit. Maintaining the feeling of the Romulus bank,

ROMULUS STATE BANK — Founded in 1913, the bank built this modern facility in 1952. The bank became the Romulus Office of Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit in January, 1960, when the two banks merged. Second vice president Leo M. Kalota is the officer-in-charge.

the same staff continued to serve with Roach remaining in charge until his retirement on August 1, 1963.

Presently, Mr. Roach resides in San Clemente, Calif., enjoying his retirement after forty active years in banking. Mr. Carmichael continued with Manufacturers Bank until his election as Mayor of Romulus in May 1970.

Proposed bill gives education benefits

State Rep. Edward E. Mahalak (D-Romulus) has introduced a bill which clarifies and broadens a law providing educational benefits for children of totally disabled veterans or servicemen who were killed in action or died of other causes during a time of war.

Under the present law, Mahalak said, such children are entitled to attend a college or university without tuition or fees.

According to Mahalak, the newly-introduced bill makes additional children of totally disabled veterans eligible for the educational benefits.

The original law stipulates that the benefits are limited to children of Michigan veterans. Mahalak's bill clarifies this by defining the term "Michigan veteran" as one whose legal residence was in Michigan immediately before entering the service or a person from another state who has since his discharge lived in Michigan for at least five years.

"This last provision would qualify those children of totally disabled veterans whose fathers are now Michigan residents even though they weren't when they entered the service," Mahalak explained. "I see no reason why these young people should be excluded. Their fathers have made their sacrifices for their country and if they live in Michigan now their children should be entitled to these special benefits."

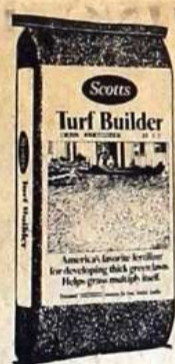

To be eligible for the free tuition and fees, students must be between 16 and 22 years of age and attend a tax-supported college or university, training institution or secondary school.

Mahalak is chairman of the House Committee on Military and Veterans' Affairs.

Crime victims eye compensation

Financial relief may be on the way for victims of crime. Legislation introduced by State Sen. William Faust (D-Westland) provides for creation of a crime victims' compensation board, empowered to award up to $15,000 to victims of certain crimes.

"The first concern in crimes committed today has been with the apprehension and the conviction of the criminal," said Faust.

"NO CONSIDERATION is shown the victims of crime — or the survivors in a case of a murder — who are often crippled financially as the result of a crime.

"Some victims, for example, face insurmountable medical bills because of injuries suffered as the result of a crime and many are forced to leave work — for as little as a few days or as much as a lifetime.

"Something is wrong, tragically wrong, if we continue to ignore these people."

Under Faust's proposal, awards could be made to victims of a crime, a surviving spouse or, in the absence of a surviving spouse, a child or children of a victim who died as the direct result of a crime or any other person dependent on the victim for support when the victim died as a direct result of a crime.

Before an award may be made, the claim examiner or the board must find only that — a crime was committed;

— the crime directly resulted in personal physical injury to or death of the victim;

— police records show that the crime was reported within 48 hours after the crime was committed, unless there was a justifiable reason for the delay.

The proposal requires that an award may not exceed out-of-pocket losses together with loss of earnings or support resulting from the injury.

The award may not exceed $100 for each week of lost earnings or support and the sum total of the award may not exceed $15,000.

If two or more children or dependents are entitled to an award as the direct result of the death of the victim, the award must be apportioned equally among them.

Claims for compensation may be reduced or denied if the victim contributed to the infliction of his or her injury, the relationship between the victim and the person who committed the crime was close or intimate or a serious financial hardship will not result to the victim if the award is rejected or denied.

The three member Crime Victims Compensation Board would operate under the jurisdiction of the Department of the Attorney General and members would be appointed by the governor with the consent of the senate.

Before an award may be made, the claim examiner or the board must find only that — a crime was committed;

School fair builds interest in science

Student interest in science is bolstered each year at Beverly Elementary School through the school's annual Science Fair.

Since it started two years ago, student participation and the number of projects entered have steadily increased. This year entries are expected to double last year's number.

Pupils in all grades work as individuals, in small groups and as a class to produce science projects in a wide range of scientific inquiry. First, second and third place ribbons are awarded to the students to reward their efforts.

A special committee is set up each year to serve as resource people to teachers and to plan this year's fair. They are Mrs. Edith Mattison, first grade teacher; Mrs. Mildred Washington, fourth grade teacher; and Mrs. Candace Walters, sixth grade teacher.

Open to the public, the fair this year will be held on Wednesday, April 18 from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m.

3 county committees work on new facilities

A rare action taken by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners has three of its major committees simultaneously at work on proposed new juvenile detention facilities planned for Western Wayne County.

From the floor of its full board meeting last week, the commissioners referred a resolution of Commissioner Mary E. Dumas to their Public Safety and Judiciary Committee, Public Works Committee, and Human Resources Committee at the same time.

The resolution calls for overall assessment of child care facilities in Wayne County, notes a population shift into western regions of the county, and asks for establishment of a Commission on Youth and Child Care Facilities.

"The unusual referral for simultaneous study by three committees reflects the commissioners' distress and concern for lack of facilities," said Mrs. Dumas, a member of the Human Resources Committee.

MRS. DUMAS (R-Dist. 19), said: "Each committee is assigned to determine the best method for implementing the intent of the resolution in their respective jurisdictions.

"For too long the facilities for both the aged and the youth have gone neglected, but the board recognizes the urgent need in these areas.

She expressed a particular concern for facilities and services for neglected and delinquent girls.

"Neglected, dependent and delinquent girls suffer from insufficient facilities and lack of services of all kinds," she added.

In her resolution Mrs. Dumas pointed out that there is a continuing shortage of beds at the Wayne County Youth Home and the D. J. Healy Children's Center, and that "the problem will be more aggravated" if the County Child Development Center is closed as recently recommended by the governor's task force report.

THE RESOLUTION also urges continued support of professional and volunteer counseling programs, and that these probation services be extended to include delinquents in out-county areas.

The resolution further asks that the proposed Commission on Youth and Child Care Facilities include representatives of the Juvenile Court, United Community Services, the County Intermediate School District, Department of Social Services, the Board of Commissioners and others.

According to the resolution, the proposed new Western Wayne County facility should include a minimum number of secure detention beds, an open detention unit and a court room with probation and testing services.

It would be financed with part of a $39 million appropriation that the county is seeking to borrow from the State Legislature, says the resolution.

Mrs. Dumas said her resolution was inspired by "increasing numbers of troubled children from Western Wayne County who are turned away at the intake center due to lack of beds and inaccessibility to suburban schools and police departments."

"IN MANY instances these children do not qualify for income for admission to other child care facilities, and, because suburban police are lacking nearby juvenile detention facilities, are merely turned back onto the streets," she added.

City to get protection

PLANS FOR alcoholism treatment services for Wayne County residents also received board approval. The annual cost of $274,970 will be funded by state agencies.

The board approved a FitzPatrick proposal that the county and Detroit health departments establish a joint planning division "for expansion of high-quality health programs."

Other local health departments also will be invited to participate in the planning. The commissioners concurred in principle with FitzPatrick's suggestion that the county provide half the cost of the planning unit up to a maximum of $100,000 annually.

The board of commissioners also recommended continuation of negotiations toward consolidation of the Detroit and Wayne County health departments. A city-county study established to pave the way for merger ended in February without accomplishing that goal.

IN OTHER actions, the Board of Commissioners:

— approved an application for $99,120 in federal funds to establish a one-year Volunteer Programs Coordinator Program. The project will "expand, improve and create voluntary services to alleviate problems brought about by poverty and to coordinate existing volunteer programs."

The county's share of the cost will be $10,500.

— endorsed House Joint Resolution C which, if passed by the Legislature, would ask the voters to amend the

LIKE TEACHING IN HURON?

Sure...but sometimes we feel left out in the cold, and discouraged in our efforts.

Teaching materials aren't available when needed.

Administrative support and assistance is lacking.

The energies of teachers are spent in unproductive negotiations.

Attorney fees are consuming needed district funds.

And 1971 wages just aren't enough to meet 1973 prices.

A settlement of the differences separating the Board of Education and Administration from the districts teachers would make our work more enjoyable and effective.

Cite skyrocketing costs

Labor threatens Great Lakes shipping

By WES THORP, Lansing Bureau Chief

WASHINGTON — Powerful shippers who work at the helm of the Great Lakes economy fear that skyrocketing costs and labor featherbedding are strangling foreign commerce.

There are calls for a Congressional investigation, for drastic reforms both by the United States and Canada. Shippers say that they are forced to pay exorbitant fees for pilots to guide their ships in the tricky waters of the St. Lawrence Seaway and the Great Lakes.

Two complaints heard most from the shippers are: ...Pilotage charges which have risen 166 per cent in the last five years which can take as much as $10,000 to a vessel's voyage into the Great Lakes.

...Work stoppages which can tie up international shipping from one end of the Great Lakes to the other.

ALL FOREIGN ships, with few exceptions, are required to take pilots aboard while traveling through the St. Lawrence Seaway with its canals and locks and the Great Lakes which stretch from eastern New York to Minnesota and northern Canada.

The visiting vessels are required, according to a joint U.S.-Canadian agreement, to hire pilots from one of six groups, three in the U.S. and three in Canada.

This small group of men who number a little more than a hundred are being charged by shippers with helping to kill any hopes of making the Great Lakes into the country's fourth seacoast.

A SHIPPING official in Montreal blames the pilotage system which was established by joint agreement between the U.S. and Canada.

While most of their Canadian counterparts are government employees, the American pilots are self-employed.

The U.S. government has granted three pilot's associations, owned by the pilots, the exclusive right to provide pilotage services in their areas which extend from eastern New York to the western end of Lake Superior.

Such a system encourages featherbedding, the shipping officials say, "with the Americans hustling to pilot as many ships as they can and with the Canadians complaining that they are working too hard."

AS LONG as the pilots get paid by the trip, the shippers and shipping officials say, "There's going to be trouble."

Pointing to specific examples, shippers cite the following: Being charged for pilotage services in the port of Duluth where a pilot is not required and being threatened with labor strife if the bill is not paid.

A requirement which states that most ocean-going ships have to have a pilot in the open waters which the officials say accounts for 40 per cent of all pilotage.

A labor dispute in Toledo which resulted in the pilots walking off the ships and refusing to go back on board, resulting in costly delays.

"TAKING ALL these imponderables into consideration, the shipowner decides whether or not he can afford to take his ship into the Great Lakes," says John Aspin, director of marine operations for the Shipping Federation of Canada.

The U.S. system has resulted in the pilots of the upper Great Lakes making a reported $46,292 each in 1971.

U.S. and Canadian transportation officials are currently reviewing the pilotage system recommending that compulsory open water pilotage be abandoned.

This is where foreign ships are required to have pilots in the open waters of the Great Lakes, sort of like being required to have a navigator while driving a car on open stretches of a freeway.

ONE PILOT agreed that having him work in open waters "is a waste of time because I'm very seldom needed in open water."

Shippers who use the Great Lakes predict the requirement will never be eased because the pilots would lose a big share of their income.

If open water pilotage was abolished, the following would happen:

The 20 pilots in the upper Great Lakes would have lost $879,000 in 1971.

The 32 pilots who cover the Detroit River and Lake Erie would have lost $319,379.

Those who cover the St. Lawrence River would have lost $214,374.

That's 72 men losing almost $1.3 million in income in one year.

At stake are the jobs which the Seaway provides for 85,710 families in the Great Lakes region, the truck drivers in Detroit, Chicago and other areas; the pallet makers who are scattered throughout the Great Lakes states and the many more who depend on the international trade for a living.

Secondarily affected are workers in other industries which depend on exports and imports, the bean farmer, the miner, chemical plant employees, and auto workers.

Future parts of this series will examine the issues behind the complaints of the shippers who charge that the high costs ultimately affect the consumer; the pilot's side of the story who answers back that the shippers get exactly what they pay for and finally what changes are being proposed to make Great Lakes trade more inviting to ocean-going ships.

'Big brother' plan

Forced busing will ruin local school districts

Attorney William Saxton, speaking to the Livonia Board of Education last week, said "...if the educational system is to be used as a whipping boy for integration, I don't think anybody is interested in quality education."

As the legal representative for 52 suburban schools districts fighting the threat of forced cross-district busing, Saxton had a big fight on his hands - considering the liberal decision-making emanating from some of our Federal courts.

He also warns that the fight against forced busing could last two years, depending on a final edict handed down by the United States Supreme Court.

But Saxton leaves the door open for hope, when he repeats an opinion made by the 6th U.S. Court of Appeals, which in essence states that destruction of the neighborhood school concept can lower the quality of education in a school district.

At first the pro-busing forces contended the move was solely to foster quality education for all, and now readily admit the purpose is integration.

This nation will be in a sad state of affairs if the day comes when a child can be forcibly bused cross-town because of the color of his skin.

The courts will eventually decide whether the state controls the children of America - or their parents who support the neighborhood school.

For the good of our educational system, the High Court must uphold the neighborhood school system.

PILOTAGE - A BIG ANCHOR

Chamber chatter

'A better Romulus'

Dolores Ristow
Executive Board Director, Secretary, Public Relations Officer, Romulus Chamber of Commerce.

"What has happened with the 'Class C' liquor licenses allocated by Romulus City Council during October 1971 through January 1972? And 'Why aren't these licenses being put to use?'"

These were some of the many questions asked at a recent open three-series meeting the Romulus-Metro International Airport Chamber of Commerce held, and entitled, 'What do you want the Chamber to do for you?'

Chamber members and other Romulus residents and businessmen who attended the meeting pointed out the fact that the tax base anticipated from new businesses, such as from a "Class C" liquor licenses, is just not being realized by the City of Romulus, and not enough people in city government are doing anything about it.

Romulus City Council allocated five table-top "Class C" liquor licenses well over a year ago and to date only one of them is being used.

The four licenses allegedly not in use at this time were allocated to: Edmund Bizek, Sr. on 10-26-71; Ronald J. Makino on 10-26-71; Joseph J. Nehra, Jr. on 1-25-72; and Gikendall Phenix on 10-26-71.

The fifth license allocated on 2-1-72 to Alexander and Estelle Dul of the Shady Hollow Golf has been made use of.

The general feeling of those people at the meeting who were voicing their unhappiness over the unused liquor licenses was that the Romulus Chamber of Commerce should look into the matter because of the possibility that there could be other established businesses, new businesses, or just an individual wanting to start a business, that might want to make use of these liquor licenses.

Because of genuine concern, Dolores Ristow, executive director and secretary of the Romulus Chamber of Commerce, in a February letter to the Romulus City Council said: "The Chamber Board members are hopeful that Council will inform them as to why more of these 'Class C' licenses are not in use at this time."

The communication also said: "The Chamber wishes to bring to your attention the fact that in many instances there could be jobs created by establishments that use this type of 'Class C' liquor licenses."

"Quality establishments using a 'Class C' liquor license always stimulates interest, growth, and will naturally attract additional people to the area."

Mrs. Ristow, in this same communication, did ask for a reply from the Council before the Chamber's scheduled board meeting of March 12, 1973.

As of today, The Romulus-Metro International Airport Chamber of Commerce has received no word from the Romulus City Council in regards to their inquiry.

The Romulus Chamber's Board of Directors have promised the Chamber's membership that they would try and follow up on all the concerns, problems, and programs that were mentioned at the three-series meeting until the membership feels satisfied.

The liquor licenses and the deplorable situation of the Romulus roads are only two of the issues that the Chamber has been addressing itself to in the past month in hopes of building a better Romulus community for business, industry, and residents both present and future.

Patriotism is good for America

By MITCH KEHETIAN
Editor

Patriotism, when misused can serve no worthy purpose ... but that's no problem these days - at least in one Detroit judge's courtroom.

Patriotism, when directed with a sense of responsibility and love for one's country is a virtue worthy of respect.

"We've seen examples of patriotism in the hearts and weary faces of returning American POWs. One returning American said "Thanks America..."

THE "THANKS" was for the "peace with honor" reached in Vietnam - a peace that allowed our boys to return on their feet, rather than on their knees.

Last week I was accorded the opportunity participate in a Careers Day program at John Hill Jr. High School of the Cherry Hill District - and I still remember a few words of welcome extended by Principal Howard H. Drewitz.

Drewitz spoke of our returning POWs and their unshaken faith in America, patriotic expressions of country and faith in God.

AND HE REAFFIRMED my faith in the public educational system with a call for renewed patriotism in our schools.

"We need more of it in America and in our schools."

In some of our public school buildings in the metropolitan area, and across the country, the principals dare not raise the American flag for fear it will be torn down - by young Americans.

Under the guise of civil liberties, misguided students can refuse to recite the Pledge - in these United States.

THE RIGHT to protest is a constitutional guarantee, but when the protestors burn Old Glory, they relinquish that guarantee.

If the system must be reformed, our free society provides the avenue on election day - not through street violence and threats of revolution.

The red, white and blue in the American flag is a symbol of hope and freedom for people who cherish a free democracy. If the system is corrupt - don't blame the flag.

Principal Drewitz in my kind of principal, As he said: "We need more patriotism in our schools..."

HAVING BEEN raised in the Old Delray section of Detroit, often called Little Europe, I learned the meaning of national American pride.

I still remember how my father would drag me down to the little Armenian hall in Delray on national Armenian observances - with my camera.

Each year on May 28 I took the same picture - of two flags - the red, white and blue of America, and the red, blue and orange of the fallen Democratic Armenian Republic.

That day my father would repeat: "Our national Armenian flag was crushed by the Communists and Turks - but today she lives again because the red, white and blue of our new adopted land stands as a symbol of freedom to all peoples.

On the Fourth of July in Old Delray, practically every home, the homes of immigrants, displayed Old Glory. The homeowners spoke Hungarian, German, Polish, Slavic - and Armenian.

They knew the value of freedom and what Old Glory stood for to the oppressed. These immigrants, then called foreigners, loved the red, white and blue standards they adopted as their New Flag.

This is still a great country - we can keep it great by upholding Old Glory as the symbol of hope and freedom.

Questions library hours

To the editor:

When will the Van Buren Public Library really be open to the public? I used to wonder about this when in high school and 10 years later am distressed to find myself

Concerned

To the Editor:

In last week's Enterprise-Roman I read where the county wants to expand the Willow Run Airport into the world's largest cargo airport, which at first I thought would be great for development and image.

But after giving it some thought, I would have to sell my home and get out of Van Buren Township. I do not want giant cargo planes lurching over my house, and the amount of air traffic would destroy what peace of mind we homeowners have left.

What comes first - money or the tranquility of taxpaying homeowners. It sounds like money with all this talk of airport expansion.

Concerned Citizen
Van Buren Township

contemplating the same problem.

Although, perhaps, it would be impractical to initiate the schedules of university libraries, I strongly feel that the program here is in need of review and some degree of liberalization.

People young and old should have a quiet place to go, a place open every day of the week. A place where the garden of the mind could be cultivated in peace.

The local library should, but does not, fulfill such needs - the needs of those it claims to serve.

Surely high school students could be found to volunteer, or to work for the sake of experience, and a small wage, if there is no more money in the budget for professional help.

Whatever the case, let us now find a way to open the doors of our library, if possible, all the way.

A school superintendent's thoughts on...

Freedom of the press-and its responsibility

By BYRON K. ANTCLIFF Superintendent, Huron School District

Early in our nation's history our founding fathers recognized the importance of freedom of the press in any society which is built on democratic principles. Today a great battle wages over what is freedom of the press and what is misuse of that power. In addition to guaranteeing freedom of speech, our constitution guarantees that every accused shall have the right to face his accuser.

The question now before us as a nation is whether or not the accuser should be guaranteed the right of not having to justify his statements or at least to be able to keep sources of information confidential. This has presented a very confusing and difficult issue for the American people to resolve.

LIKE MOST OF the questions today, there is no one simple answer to this. Surely, almost everyone in the American society agrees that we must have a press which is able to speak out. Certainly, the very foundation of our educational program is based upon the right of the individual to seek truth. The very principles of American democracy are based upon the deep belief in worth of the individual. It is based upon the idea that people need not be protected from certain thoughts and ideas but rather that people are quite capable of listening to all types of thoughts and ideas and then deciding what is the best course of direction to take.

On the other hand, we typically have believed that responsibility and authority go hand in hand. In most situations responsibility vested in a particular office is much greater than the authority to solve the problems. This is true from the foreman in the shop, to the governor or president.

AMERICAN OPINION on almost all political issues is to the largest extent formed by the news media. So we find that the largest number of decisions made by the public are really based on the direction that the press chooses to take. Editorials and news stories and the manner in which the press chooses to report or not to report them has more impact on the American public than any newsletter - from a senator for example. However, the press is accountable to no one. Aside from the economic impact that it must face, it can say and do as it pleases without having to prove its statements. This fact has disturbed a great many politicians. They are opposed to the power they believe the press has in forming public opinion. It is this great power which has led the legislative and executive branches of the American government to challenge the right of the press in printing whatever it chooses to.

The real issue before the country is not really freedom of the press but the question of responsibility and accountability of the press in what it chooses to report and not report. The great danger before us now is that in answering this question we will misinterpret the issue and place restrictions upon the freedom of the press. To do so would be a tragic mistake to the American way of life.

Making jigsaw puzzles for the children's ward at Annapolis Hospital, Wayne, was a recent project of some students of Edgemont Elementary School in Belleville.

Students in the classroom of Mrs. Stella Bialas received a lesson in production of jigsaw puzzles from Jon Rinka, an instructor at Eastern Michigan University, who visited the classroom to show the students how to make the puzzles.

Rinka first took a piece of quarter-inch plywood, then had a picture from a magazine glued onto the wood. After it dried, he took another picture that was ready to shellac. He shellacked the picture, let it dry sufficiently, then cut out

Stamps honor postal employees

The design of a unique postal tribute in the form of 10 special postage stamps to honor the nearly 700,000 employees of the U.S. Postal Service has been announced locally by Belleville Postmaster Raymond J. O'Neil.

The Postal People Commemorative Stamp was announced nationally by Postmaster General E. T. Klassen, who said:

"These stamps are designed to emphasize to the American people the important duties performed by the men and the women who are responsible for moving almost 90 billion pieces of mail a year."

Ten eight-cent commemorative stamps on the same sheet, each depicting a service performed by postal personnel, from window clerks selling stamps, to workers on the workfloor, to letter carriers, will be issued simultaneously at more than 40,000 post offices, stations and branches on April 30, O'Neil said.

FOR THE FIRST time in history, the stamps will bear printed matter on the reverse side under the adhesive. The first stamp, for example, shows a window clerk selling stamps and the text reads: "Nearly 27 billion stamps are sold yearly to carry your letters to every corner of the world. People serving you."

The ink on the reverse side of the stamp has been approved by the Federal Food and Drug Administration.

"We could not depict every type of job performed in the postal service," Klassen said. "There are hundreds of vital duties performed in the process of handling our enormous volume of mail." He added, "These stamps are aimed at highlighting the important roles performed by postal people as they serve the citizens of the communities where they lived."

A special souvenir envelope honoring Postal People with a cachet (a design printed on the lower left corner of the envelope) will be offered free to the public at each local post office on April 30 as long as the supply lasts.

THE POSTAL SERVICE will also offer the complimentary cacheted envelope with ten stamps, affixed, by mail order to collectors for $1 (80 cents worth of stamps, plus 20 cents handling charge). Two cancellations will be used for each strip of 10.

The cancellations will read: "United States Postal Service, April 30, 1973, First Day Issue." They will have the Postal Service emblem with the words, "People Service You."

Kiwanis President's Ball is March finale

'Suddenly it's Spring' is dinner-dance theme

AT WHAT IS HOPED will be an annual spring event, the Belleville Kiwanis Club hosted its first Kiwanis President's Ball Saturday night at the Father Foltz Building on Columbia Avenue. Bringing March to a close and heralding the coming of April (in the wee hours), the dinner-dance began at eight o'clock with some 175 in attendance including clubsters and their guests.

"Suddenly it's Spring" was the theme used as the group decorated in a pink, yellow and white color scheme which included a white wooden gazebo which guests passed through enroute to their round tables for 10.

Fresh centerpieces of yellow and white daisies, mums and baby's breath encircled lighted yellow tapers which added a special glow to the proceedings. Edging the dance floor were pink and yellow blossoming trees and pots of tulips and daffodils to continue the spring-time effect.

Music by the five-piece George Teller Orchestra proved so enjoyable that the band was urged to play for an extra hour's dancing. Making a big hit with the group were the mixers which enabled dancers to introduce themselves to one another.

Club President Don Meyer was general chairman of the ball with Peggy Chizmar handling decorations; Dick Wood the tickets; and Manley Baldwin the cocktail arrangements.

Activities concluded around two a.m. with many groups extending the party just a bit longer with breakfasts in their homes and out. (Photos by Richard Smith.)

PREZ SAYS WELCOME — Don Meyer (left), president of the Belleville Kiwanis Club, and his wife, Jean, welcome Bob and Betty Tontalo to the club's first President's Ball Saturday night. The dinner-dance (which is sure to become an annual event due to its success) was held in the Father Foltz Building and attracted some 175 guests including relatives of the Meyer's from Lakewood, Ohio — Hank and Gerry Wallace.

TABLE MATES — Kiwanian Bill Chizmar and his wife, Peggy, (from left) invited their friends, Marilyn and Bob Martin of Saline, to join them at Saturday night's gala Kiwanis President's Ball. Peggy and her decorating committee chose the theme "Suddenly it's Spring" for the event and then fashioned yellow and pink blossoming trees to set the mood. Also carrying out the springy effect were a flower cart holding fresh daffodils and daisies for each gentleman to pin on his lady's gown, pots of tulips and daffodils and dainty arrangements of yellow and white daisies, mums and baby's breath at each round table.

BUFFET TIME — Ed and Kay Anguilm sample the many dishes prepared for the Kiwanis President's ball which included dinner and cocktails. The couple were among the 18 who made up the party brought by Kiwanian Art Hill and his wife, Joy.

More pork

Today's hog yields 25 pounds more lean meat and 25 pounds less fat per carcass than the average hog of 25 years ago. In other words, research in genetic selection has led to development of meatier hogs that yield only half as much lard and other fat as did hogs of 1948. A major consumer benefit of the new, leaner pork is its lower calorie content.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

Emerson wrote: "The true test of civilization is not the census, nor the size of cities, nor the crops, but the kind of men the country turns out..." Our country has turned out some pretty good men in times past. And our homes and schools are STILL turning out good men in spite of a sometimes false impression.

The majority of our youth are sincere, concerned and intelligently dedicated to a better America. The anti-establishment yuppies, econ-critics, denim militants and revolutionaries are definitely a small minority who cause big headlines. We believe and are sure others believe that at least some of the seemingly anti-social youth are unwittingly playing a superficial role. In their heads and hearts they know better.

We believe most youth see nothing wrong in cultural pursuits, even money making and political activities. We believe most youth realize life can be beautiful if intolerance, smugness and arrogance are annihilated and replaced with personal, humane consideration for others. We believe most youth realize too that spiritual aspects of life must triumph over the physical.

FAMILY AWARD — The Frank Lemanskis and three of their daughters were among those honored at last Thursday night's Girl Scout Birthday Party at Elwell School. Mrs. Velma Harcas (left) awarded them five-year membership pins and also recognized them for the time, talent and love they have given to the many young people of their com-

Girl Scouts mark 61st birthday at Elwell School celebration

Girl Scouts, their mothers, sponsors, and special guests numbered around 275 Thursday, March 29, as they celebrated the 61st birthday of Girl Scouting in the United States.

The program began with the procession of flags as five troops sang "The Girl Scouts are Marching, Their Colors are Flying". Troop No. 535 presented colors.

Following the invocation and songs, the many birthday cakes were cut and served by the troop committee chairmen. Beverages were served by the 20 troop committee mothers.

Group singing led by Senior Scout Nancy Lemanski followed after which Brownie Troops No. 79 and No. 96 sang traditional songs.

SPECIAL GUESTS introduced were Elwell Principal and Mrs. William Chizmar, Mrs. Ruth Clift, Elwell PTO President Robert Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Adams (she's troop consultant on the dramatics badge), Mynhart Harcas, and Mrs. Robert Tontalo. The many troop leaders' husbands were also given recognition.

Five year membership awards were presented to leaders by Troops Services Director Mrs. Mynhart (Harkie) Harcas. Participants were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lemanski and daughters, Mary Carol, Nancy and Patricia. This family was recognized for giving its time, talent and love to the many young people of their community.

Mrs. Lemanski then gave five-year membership awards to Mrs. Robert Tontalo, Mrs. Eugene Griffith and Mrs. Eugene Bracken, troop committee members; and Clara and Dolores Armstrong, Connie Bracken, Teresa Carter, Debbie Griffith, Ann Kalasz, Susan Lemanski, and Jamie Shollar, Scouts.

A certificate of appreciation was presented to Robert Harrison, Elwell PTO president, by Mrs. Barbara Burelle and also to representatives from sponsored troops No. 79, 96, 535, and 589. Mr. Harrison was surprised to be appointed an "honorary Girl Scout" when he was awarded the Girl Scout trefoil pin.

MRS. ROBERT TONTALO accepted the certificate for St. Anthony's Altar Society for its many years of sponsorship from Cadette Troop No. 448. Also acknowledged were Principal William Chizmar for providing meeting places for four troops; to Mrs. Clift for her many services to the troops; and to the Enterprise-Roman for its excellent news coverage throughout the year.

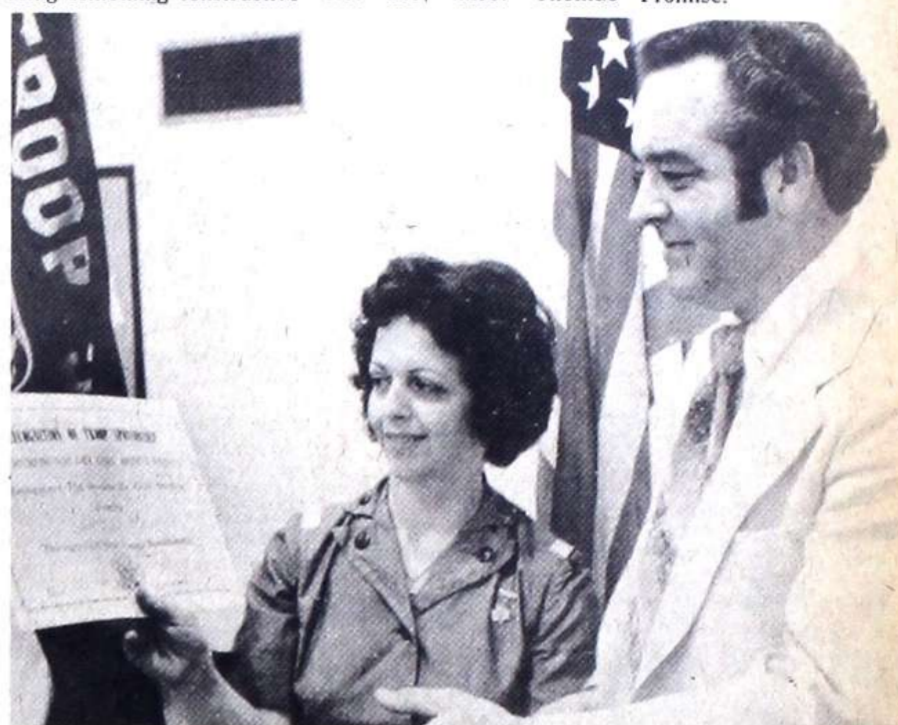

"Friends Around the World" was the theme of Cadette Troop No. 448's program as it sang "Our Chalet Song" and Karin Koek told the story of the Juliette

Low World Friendship Fund. She explained that once a year Girl Scouts give voluntary contributions to the World Fund thus having the satisfaction of sharing in a Girl Scout activity that is doing something constructive about bringing good international relations and world peace.

Mrs. Harcas extended her thanks to the following troop leaders: Mrs. Laverne Liddle, No. 79; the Frank Lemanskis, No. 448; Mrs. Thomas Rombyer and Mrs. Frank Drobot, No. 535; Mrs. Robert Burelle and Mrs. Thomas Garlie, No. 589; and to toastmaster Nancy Lemanski. The program closed with the rededication of the Girl Scout Promise.

HE'S A GIRL SCOUT — The surprise accolade of being named an "honorary Girl Scout" came to Robert Harrison (right) at the 61st Birthday of Girl Scouting observed Thursday at Elwell School. Mr. Harrison, who is president of the school's PTO, was given the certificate of appreciation from Mrs. Barbara Burelle, leader of Troop No. 589.

Bacon at its best

The secret to successful bacon cookery is low heat. Place the meat in a cold skillet and separate the slices as they begin to cook so that each slice is flat in the pan. Continue cooking over low heat, turning the slices often, until they are browned evenly on both sides. Remove the slices to drain on absorbent paper.

Recent snow storm is a new 'happening' for Girl Scouts

By Mrs. Joyce Phillips

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Girl Scout Troop No. 448 of Haggerty Elementary School submitted its camping story to the Belleville Enterprise before it actually took place in order to meet our deadline. Under NORMAL circumstances, the story would have been fine. However, the weekend of March 16, 17 and 18 held a big surprise for the troop and its leaders, as it did for many other people. The facts and emotions of the blizzardy weekend are related by Mrs. Phillips, co-leader of the troop.)

Arriving at Camp Hilltop, Ann Arbor, on Friday, March 16, about 6 p.m. there was a light rain falling. A few hours later, it was snowing and, sitting atop that hill, it seemed to us that the wind howled something fierce! It continued to snow through Sunday morning.

On Saturday morning, we received a telephone call from Mrs. Schock of Ann Arbor, custodian of the keys to the lodge. She wanted to make us aware that there were severe snowstorm warnings and a possibility of a power failure. She welcomed us to come and stay in her home. All we had to do was find the pathway that led to her place approximately one-half mile away (or two and a half miles by road.) If we had trouble finding the path, Mrs. Schock stated, there was a Cadette troop in the area that had been trained to lead the way in case of just such an emergency.

WE HAD TWO automobiles stranded atop the hill. I might note that the driveways leading to the top of the hill had cliffs on one side, tall trees bordering the other, and a river to the left and a pond to the right below. The hill was about 600 feet from its base to the peak. The distance seemed at least twice that far to the car owners, though, since neither had snow tires, there wasn't a snow shovel in sight, and the driveway was drifted over in spots from three to four feet in height.

Troop leader Mrs. Lou Wilkinson, Mrs. Barbara Thomas, our helper, and I (Joyce Phillips) discussed our situation. We decided to get a message to each parent of our Girl Scouts assuring them we were all right.

Since the Ann Arbor telephone lines were for emergency use only, we were able to make one call to Mrs. Linda Mason, another assistant leader, who had been unable to make the trip. This now seemed a blessing in disguise since she had a list of the parents and was able to contact them for us. (There were no restrictions in the Belleville area for using the telephone.)

We could receive outside calls without any trouble and the leaders and families kept in touch.

WE WERE COLD and wet when we returned to the lodge and told the girls we had been out staking a hike. Mrs. Thomas agreed that we were better off to stay put, at least until a power failure proved otherwise.

Every girl had brought a flashlight, a good many transistor radios were on hand, we had a huge fireplace, and a good supply of wood which we struggled to bring indoors to keep dry for emergency use. Our food could last through Monday afternoon. Indeed, we weren't badly off at all!

How long the storm would last was a question on all our minds. We decided not to alarm the girls needlessly and whenever they questioned why they couldn't go outdoors, we simply told them it was too cold. Unknown to the leaders, a few girls had overheard our 'secret' talks and the whole troop was aware of the real situation. They didn't let on, though, and played along with the game.

Saturday evening we all gathered around the fireplace to sing songs and make wastebaskets from styrofoam egg cartons. Many played games they'd brought from home.

SUNDAY MORNING the snow ceased to fall and many main roads were plowed and free for travel. Gary Wilkinson and Ronald Phillips had left Belleville and arrived about 10:30 to help the group leave Hilltop.

Mrs. Mason telephoned to see if the men had arrived so that she, in turn, could notify the parents that they could pick their daughters up at the lodge since the roads were open.

Mr. and Mrs. Mattson of Hannan Road and the Spaldings and Mr. Thomas of Haggerty Road pitched in to shovel snow at the foot of the driveway and to help clean the lodge.

The Scouts finally got their chance to go outdoors, making huge snowballs down the hills and carrying their gear to the cars below. The many trips helped trample down the snow in the drive. A true example of team work was being experienced!

The two cars at the top of the hill were very cautiously driven down by their owners, Mr. Thomas and Mr. Phillips, with smiles and laughter greeting them as they succeeded safely to the bottom.

Relief from worry and anxiety was a most welcome feeling. Somehow, it seems, it had been a long, long weekend.

On Saturday, March 24, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mericle of Denton Rd. attended the wedding of Christine Hustyi, and Walter Morrell at St. Joseph Catholic Church at Whittaker. They also attended the reception held at P.N.A. Hall on Sumpter Rd. following the ceremony.

Mrs. Herman Schultz of Haggerty Rd. has been a patient at Riverside Hospital in Trenton for the past two weeks. Mrs. Schultz, who is 86 years of age, has been quite ill. Cards may be addressed to Room 206.

Members of Belleville Assembly No. 49, Rainbow for Girls, enjoyed a Pajama party last Friday night, March 23, at the home of Mother Advisor, Rose Ann Welt and Worthy Advisor, Denise Welt, for their "Fun" project. Several members along with the Mother Advisor were initiated. Much food, including sloppy joes and pizzas, were consumed. Following breakfast Saturday morning the girls canvassed for Muscular Dystrophy.

Mrs. Elda Bohl of Robson Rd. spent last weekend as the guest of a friend, Mrs. Eunice Egges, of Chicago.

After having been in St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor, for some time, Mrs. Muriel Bearance is now convalescing at her home on Liberty St.

Mrs. Floye Zinn of Jackson, Ohio, was a weekend guest of her brother's wife, Mrs. Troye Lambert, of Quirk Rd.

Two recent showers honor April bride-elect

LINDA ALLION, who'll walk up the aisle of the First United Methodist Church of Belleville this Saturday, April 7, was the honored guest at two recent showers. The first, held March 22 (after the snow-storm-of-the-year had pre-empted an earlier date) was given by Mary Boudreau and Pam LaLonde, both of Belleville.

Held at the Lee Allion home on Edgedale Drive, the party was attended by 10 guests who enjoyed playing games for prizes and then socializing for the remainder of the evening. Linda opened her gifts with the help of her future honor attendant, Marilyn Bara of Ypsilanti, after which dessert and punch were served.

Answering invitations to the miscellaneous shower were Toni Chisholm of Inkster; Elaine Howett of Romulus; Sharon Ladd from Ypsilanti; Sue Jabro of Lincoln Park; and Vivian Wallace and Phyllis Allion of Belleville.

THE SECOND SHOWER, also tagged 'miscellaneous' was held in Flint at the home of Daisy Dohrman who shared hostess duties with Carole Munger.

Friends and relatives of the future bridegroom, about 18 in all, attended the Saturday party, took part in several games and then watched as Linda unwrapped her presents with help from Marlene Hackney of Flint. A dessert buffet featuring a specially-decorated cake was also on the agenda.

Linda's fiancé is Gary Munger, formerly of Flint and now of Belleville.

...and baby makes three for the Stabnaus

THERE ARE TWO new sets of grandparents in the Belleville area these early spring days — the Harvey Stabnaus of S. Biggs Street and the Charles Schells of Expressway Drive.

Their children, Craig and Karen Stabnaus, made the new titles possible when their baby boy, Erik Craig, was born March 28 at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base Hospital in Fairborn, Ohio. The baby's birth weight was recorded at 7 lbs. - 2 1/2 ozs.

Erik is also an addition to the family trees of Mr. and Mrs. William Graham of Liberty Street and Mrs. Walter Burgess of Ripley, New York, his great-grandparents.

Here 'n there... around the town

WEEK-END GUESTS of Don and Jean Meyer of Madelon Street were her sister and brother-in-law, Gerry and Hank Wallace, and their two, Wayne and Cindy, from Lakewood, Ohio. The Wallaces came to Belleville especially to attend Saturday night's gala Kiwanis President's Ball which was Don's "baby" — the club's first attempt at a dinner-dance of such proportions . . . JUST BACK from 10 days in the sunny south is Mary Ackron of Belle Villa Estates. Making her way via jet, Mary was the houseguest of her brother-in-law and wife, Al and Doris Kahlstrom of Holiday Hills, Florida. During her stay the threesome paid a visit to former Bellevillites, the Leonard Hedges at nearby Tarpon Springs. Also dropping in at the same time were Walter and Florence Krakowiak, former neighbors of the Hedges.

State Representative
22nd District

The senate is giving its consideration to recommendations of the governor and Sen. Gilbert E. Bursley (R-Ann Arbor) relative to school financing. Contained in S.B. 110, these recommendations call for a major alteration in the state's method of financing K-12 education.

At the present time, Michigan utilizes a system of educational finance based on deductible millage formula. Aimed at equalizing finances between so-called wealthy districts and poor districts, this formula provides districts with a basic grant less the amount raised locally by millage.

For districts with relatively high property values and high millage rates, this type of system provides an above average amount of money per pupil.

FOR EXAMPLE, the Ann Arbor School District presently has a state equalized valuation of $34,026 per pupil and a millage rate of 32.55 mills.

As a result of these factors, the Ann Arbor district, in 1972-73, had $1,027 per pupil from combined state and local sources to finance their schools. On the other side of the coin, the Ypsilanti district has an SEV per pupil of $24,260 and levies 22.97 mills. In 1972-

73, the Ypsilanti district had a total of $813 from combined state and local sources to spend per pupil.

It was these kinds of disparities that led the Michigan Supreme Court, in December, 1972, to rule that the present system of financing education which makes the amount of money available a product of local interest and local wealth, is not sufficient. Thus, the state must find an alternative means of financing its schools.

Senate Bill 110 proposes an alternative to this in the form of yield equalizing. What this means is that, if a local school district levies 22 mills of property taxes for operational purposes, it will have a combined total of $836 per pupil to spend in fiscal 1973-74. For a district levying 25 mills in 1974-75, the total will be $975.

THESE AMOUNTS were arrived at by guaranteeing school districts the return on a $38,000 SEV per pupil district, regardless of local property values. In 1973-74, if the district levied 22 mills. In 1975-76, the guarantee would be based on a $39,000 SEV per pupil district, if parents in a community are willing to levy at least 25 mills.

If a school district levies beyond what is required in each year, e.g. 23 mills in 1973-74 and 26 mills in 1974-75, the district will be allowed to keep the yield of the additional mills — but only on the actual SEV of the district.

Let's quickly look at the basic per-pupil grant and the impact which this proposal would have on such a grant in the Van Buren and the Romulus school districts.

This year, the Van Buren schools are levying 23.65 mills on an SEV per pupil of $25,742. Under the terms of the deductible millage formula, the district has combined revenues of $840 per pupil. For the 1973-74 year under the terms of S.B. 110, the Van Buren schools would receive $881 or an increase of $41 per pupil.

THE ROMULUS district is presently levying 27.65 mills on an SEV per pupil of $26,643. In 1972-73, the district had a total of $954 per pupil from combined state and local sources. In 1973-74 the total would increase $43 per pupil to $997.

In addition to this type of flat per pupil grant, the local districts will also receive some funding for vocational education on an added cost basis and for special education. No specific dollar amount for these funds is available at this time.

In addition to S.B. 110, there are also a variety of other proposals presently being discussed as possible alternatives. Sen. Gray has proposed a deductible millage formula that would guarantee both districts a minimum of $1,025 per pupil, but which would reduce transportation funds.

On the positive side, this proposal would also provide full funding for special education programs and drastically increased funds for vocational education. However, as can be expected, the dollar cost of implementing such a program is prohibitive at this time.

A THIRD PROPOSAL is being offered by Rep. George Montgomery. He is calling for a flat $750 per pupil for basic classroom instruction programs, plus $125 per pupil for extras. Additionally, funding for vocational education and special education would be on a full cost basis.

As each week passes, there are more proposals surfacing. It is my expectation that at least one more major proposal will be offered prior to the time when the House begins its formal consideration of the 1973-74 school aid bill.

If such is the case, I will make every effort to inform the residents of the district of the proposal, or proposals, the impact on the districts, and any other material which may be relevant.

Students set performance

A musical play, "Finian's Rainbow," will be presented by students at Romulus High School on Friday and Saturday evenings, April 13 and 14, in the school auditorium.

This is a production combining imagination, ideality and realism. There are mischievous little leprechauns at work, too.

The high school chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Lois Munchachy, and play members, under the direction of Dave Ferdon, will combine their talents to put on the production. Several other teachers are assisting, too.

Featured performers will be Napoleon Nelson, Daryl Cofield and Robert Tegner as the "Gospeleers" and Cecilia Aalberisberg, Theresa Medley, Joe Bruckner and Keith Gibson as some of the main characters.

The musical cast invites the public to attend and promises an enjoyable evening of entertainment.

THE NATIONAL TROUT FESTIVAL at Kalkaska attracts anglers of all ages to "cast" their skill against the feisty fish for prizes and pleasure.

April brings shower of Michigan events

LANSING — Spring is coming on schedule, according to the Gregorian calendar and the Michigan Tourist Council's Calendar of Travel Events.

Activities begin April 5 with the YWCA Craft Carnival and the 4-H Spring Show in Kalamazoo. Then comes the Antique's Market, April 6-8, at Battle Creek; a Coin Show at Monroe and a Picnic In The Snow at Mandan, April 8.

Spring is usually the time when redecorating fever runs high. With that in mind, the Home Show at the WMU Fieldhouse in Kalamazoo, April 10-14, offers a lot of fix-up, do-over and brand new ideas for the place you call home.

IF YOU'RE NOT a "totally modern Millie" — or Max — you can probably find something truly terrific from the pioneer past, at the Antique Show and Sale, Westmain Mall, Kalamazoo, April 12-14.

Rough riding cowboys will be stirring up, and biting, the dust at the Longhorn World Championship Rodeo at the State Fairgrounds in Detroit on April 12-15. This is one place where "horse power" is defined by the horse.

A delightful event comes April 13-14 with the International Safe-T-Play Hockey Tournament at Battle Creek. The participants will be fifth and sixth grade youngsters from American and Canadian elementary schools. The act will be fast and full of excitement.

Twin Lakes will host the White River Canoe Classic, April 14. And, April 16-29, the Nature Center at Kalamazoo holds its annual Easter Baby Animal Display. This event delights all ages. Baby piglets, ducklings, kid goats, lambs, a pony foal and many others are displayed in special pens designed so children can see and pet them. They can also watch baby chicks hatch and see a color film program on how baby animals grow up.

THE YOUTH TALENT Exhibit, April 18-22, at Battle Creek features art and science projects and experiments from 142 grade and high schools.

There's always a little nostalgia associated with the Upper Peninsula Sport and Fur Rendezvous. You might keep it in mind for April 27-28 at Amaza.

The opening of Michigan's trout season is a big event and one of the things that makes it big is the National Trout Festival at Kalkaska, April 27-29. Parades, a rodeo, Grand Ole Opry Show and, of course, fishing contests are among the scheduled activities.

Rogers City holds its "Think Spring Fair" April 27-29. The Vermontville Maple Syrup Festival, April 28, is a sure sign that spring is officially here. And, Sault Ste. Marie's Home and Garden Show, April 28-29, adds another positive note.

FOR A FINAL affirmation of the season, the Blossom Festival opens in St. Joseph and Benton Harbor April 29 continuing through May 5. The events is held in a setting of 52,000 acres of fruit and berry blossoms providing a fragrant and beautiful spectacle for visitors. For those who love a parade, the Grand Floral Parade will give you everything you expect and a lot more.

Romulus School fair slated for Saturday

The annual fair at Romulus Elementary School will be presented Saturday from noon to 5 p.m. at the school, 11165 Olive.

Games, prizes, refreshments, movies, a talent show and sale of baked goods, handcrafted items and white elephant items are planned.

Proceeds of the event will be used by the Romulus PTA for purchase of school equipment and supplies.

Theme of the fair will be replicas of businesses in the City of Romulus set in various classrooms. Among them, Dawn's Bakery, Mrs. L's White Elephant, Burcraft's Needlecraft, Wonder Bread stand, Vesco's General Store and Kidwell's Candy Shop.

A few of the games include Romulus Hardware's Wheel Game; Walter's 4-Up Bowling, Five Points Ping Pong Toss, Audrey's Pick-a-Chick, Romulus Auto Bumper's Derby, Security's Wishing Well and Manufacturer's Fortunes.

Those wishing to donate used books, handcrafted items, or baked goods may call the school office, WH 1-0272 for further information.

Pupil gives report on classroom talk

Van Buren Township dog warden Bill Minyard recently visited the sixth grade class of teacher Jonathan Hale at Edgemont Elementary School in Belleville and spoke on the operations of the township dog pound.

The following is the reaction and report by sixth grader Vickie Fugate to Minyard's talk:

"On March 28 we had the pleasure of having Mr. Minyard, the Van Buren Township dog warden, speak to our classes.

"He told us how he caught dogs. He said it was hard sometimes to take a dog away from a family.

"He told us how we could tell if a dog had rabies. He told of many dogs he had caught. Some of the kids asked him questions. Even the teachers asked some questions.

"We didn't know much about rabies when we went in but we knew a lot more when we came out."

SOME CATCH — Richard Whichello, of 13080 Lake Point Pass, is pictured here with a 102 lb. hammerhead shark he entered in the Metropolitan Miami Fishing Tournament.

Also pictured is Mrs. Whichello with her 10 lb. dolphin. They were fishing out of Miami Beach with Capt. Will Foust on the Wil-Doo as guide.

Area student on dean's list

Civil Air Patrol needs air crew

The Detroit Metropolitan Group, Civil Air Patrol, serving western Wayne County, has a particular need for private pilots, observers and radio operators. In the latter two categories, the CAP Group will provide the necessary training to qualify new members for these specialties.

The observer flies with the pilot and has the primary responsibility for doing the actual searching. Many husband and wife teams join CAP together, one already qualified as a pilot, the other trained as an observer. Observer training includes 10 hours of actual flight time before the individual is awarded the observer flight wings.

Fifth graders had busy time

The fifth grade students in Mrs. Jane Rodger's class at Mt. Pleasant School can look back on a busy March.

Among their activities was a trip to Greenfield Village, where a movie, "Back in Time," was made by a group that included Laura Dyer, Judy Moore, George Killen, Alan Merriman, Alan Bergmooser and Joe Murphy the latter a student-teacher from Eastern Michigan University.

Early in March, the class started a project of working in clay and the pottery made was made and glazed under the direction of Mrs. Karen Butt, art instructor.

Free plates for veterans proposed

State Rep. Edward E. Mahalak (D-Romulus) has introduced a bill to provide free vehicle license plates for disabled veterans.

Under the Mahalak bill, an honorably-discharged U.S. veteran who has a service connected disability which meets congressionally-set standards would be entitled to register his personal or family vehicle free of registration fees.

"We have all sorts of laws which offer special considerations for deserving groups," Mahalak said. "Who could be more deserving than a veteran who has been disabled in the service of his country? He deserves special privileges and free vehicle license plates should be one of them."

Mahalak is chairman of the House Committee on Military and Veterans Affairs.

"The cost of waiving vehicle registration fees would be comparatively minor for the state," he noted. "It would be a small recognition that we in Michigan appreciate the sacrifices of our disabled veterans."

Mahalak pointed out that the lengthy war in Vietnam has meant a new wave of disabled veterans. "It is tragic, but there is little we can do about it today," he said. "Other than to show the disabled veteran every possible consideration in his civilian life. We must let him know that he is not forgotten."

The bill is one of a series of veteran's benefit bills introduced by Mahalak this year.

operators join CAP to gain added experience and opportunities to work with radios, although prior experience in radio operations is not a requirement for this specialty. As with the observer, the CAP unit will provide all necessary training, including practice in using two-way radios for communications, which will qualify the individual as a CAP radio operator and award of the Communications Specialty Badge.

THE AMOUNT of time which CAP requires from individuals is extremely flexible, and depends on the amount of time an individual has to offer.

A recent call to duty was typical of CAP operations:

Wednesday evening, March 21, the Michigan Wing of the Civil Air Patrol was alerted to begin search and rescue operations the following morning.

A private aircraft had departed Cleveland for Detroit, but had not arrived at its destination. In such cases, it is the CAP, auxiliary of the United States Air Force, which is given the primary responsibility for carrying out the job of finding missing aircraft.

GED test scheduled three days

Huron High School will again administer the General Education Development (GED) test, according to Roger Benner, community-school director.

The GED test, commonly called the High School Equivalency Examination, makes it possible for men and women who have left school without receiving diplomas an opportunity to receive an equivalency certificate.

Huron High School also will give credits toward an actual high school diploma upon successful completion of the examination.

Testing is at 6 to 10 p.m. Monday, April 9, and again on Tuesday, April 10, and Thursday, April 12, at the same hours.

The test is free if the individual is enrolled in the school system Adult Education class, or is a resident of the school district. The cost of the test is $15 for persons out of the district not enrolled in the program.

For further information call Benner or Mrs. Chris Field at 782-2441 between the hours of 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., of 782-1436 between 6 and 10 p.m.

During the next three days, starting early Thursday morning, civilian volunteers put in 235 flying hours utilizing 68 aircraft flying 87 separate sorties, or search flights. Approximately 50,000 square miles of Michigan were searched and re-searched by air in hopes of locating the missing aircraft. Some 346 CAP personnel manned radio stations and ground teams as well as the search aircraft. Mission base was at Pontiac, commanded by CAP Capt. Gerald Lawrence.

EVERY POSSIBLE lead was followed.

CAP pilots, many taking time off from regular jobs to perform community service, were in the air by 8:30 a.m. until after dark each day.

In the western Wayne County area, the Detroit Metropolitan Group 16 of the CAP contributed six senior (adult) personnel, including 1st Lt. Frank R. Kudla, commander of the Wayne-Romulus Cadet Squadron, and more than 20 cadet (teen-age) members of the CAP.

PERSONS INTERESTED in joining the CAP community service team should write to the Detroit Metropolitan Group 16, Civil Air Patrol, at 1603 South Grove, Ypsilanti, Mich., 48197.

Information on strokes on Heart Center program

Two men with a purpose will share opening speakers' duties at the first of four Family Stroke Education Programs in Southern Wayne County.

Russell Kidd and William Griggs will open the series April 11, at Heart Information Center, 1805 Ford Ave., Wyandotte.

The program, sponsored by the Stroke Committee of the Southern Wayne County Heart Unit of the Michigan Heart Association, is scheduled for 1:30 p.m.

The purpose of the programs, to provide information and guidance to stroke patients and their families, fits in well with the purpose of the two opening speakers.

Russell Kidd knows about strokes. He's been there. He knows about aphasia (loss of speech) and learning to speak again. He knows the rigors of learning to get around again.

FORMERLY a computer programmer, Kidd is retired from Great Lakes Steel Corporation. He devotes a great deal of his time to working with fellow stroke patients and aphasics. He is president of the Metropolitan Stroke and Aphasia Club, a member of the Downriver Handicapped League and the Friendly Circle Club of the Easter Seal Society, and participates in the Wyandotte Adaptive Recreation Program, the start of which he was instrumental in causing. Kidd resides in Wyandotte.

William Griggs hasn't had a stroke, but he has much in common with many stroke patients. A paraplegic since 1959, as the result of an automobile accident, he has been active in wheelchair athletics since 1964.

As a swimmer, he has represented the United States in international competition in England, Canada, Israel, Argentina, Jamaica, and Germany.

He currently holds two national swimming records in his classification. His belief in recreation as an important part of rehabilitation is the reason he is now working towards a master's degree in recreation leadership. An insurance underwriter, Griggs also resides in Wyandotte, where he is active in the Adaptive Recreation Program.

Persons interested in attending the program may pre-register by calling the Heart Information Center, at 283-5800. There is no charge for the program.

JOHN LONG

Glenn's Davis honored as hoop Coach of Year

Before the start of the 1972-73 season, John Glenn High School had never won a league championship or a district title in basketball.

The Rockets broke the ice in both areas during the just completed season however. They won the Northwest Suburban Conference championship and then captured the crown at the Belleville Class A District Tournament.

The man who master-minded things for Glenn was Gordie Davis, who has been chosen as The Daily Eagle and Associated Newspapers' Basketball Coach of the Year. "It's a thrill to win this award and I feel that all of our players should share the honor," said Davis. "This season's team worked very hard and accomplished things that have been our goals for several years. I feel that they deserve most of the credit for this."

Davis, who has been the Glenn head coach since the 1968-69 season, saw his team compile a 9-1 Northwest Suburban record and an 18-4 over-all mark this past year.

Gordie is a 1946 graduate of Wayne High, where he was a varsity performer in basketball, football, and baseball.

He went on to Tarkio College in Missouri where he played basketball for two years. Davis then transferred to Albion College, where he also played two years of varsity basketball.

Upon his graduation from Albion in 1950 Gordie accepted a teaching and coaching position at Wayne's West Junior High.

He remained there until John Glenn opened in the fall of 1964.

Davis spent four seasons coaching the Rockets' freshman and junior varsity teams and then the head coaching post in 1968.

Glenn had never won more than three league games in any previous year and the team continued the pattern in its first season under Davis as it went 3-7 in the Northwest Suburban.

The Rockets improved to 5-5 in 1969-70 but then fell to 2-8 the following year.

The results of a building process were shown when the 1971-72 team went 6-4 and finished second in the league behind Livonia Franklin.

Davis and his players felt that the 1972-73 season would prove to be their year and in the end they were successful in achieving their long-sought championship.

Glenn won all of its league games with the exception of a 58-54 mid-season loss to Franklin.

The Rockets got revenge however, when they edged the Patriots, 56-55, in the season finale.

The victory prevented Franklin from gaining a tie for the title and Davis called it "by far the biggest thrill I've ever had in coaching."

"After we lost our only league game our kids became even more determined," said Gordie. "I've never seen a group of boys work harder and that's one of the reasons that the title meant so much to me."

Following the regular season the Rockets copped their initial district crown but then lost to Romulus, 81-58, at the Belleville Regional Tourney.

"We won nine in a row before losing our final game and the streak helped point out the progress we've made in basketball at Glenn," said Davis. "We feel that we have a strong summer program and it was of particular help last year, because all of our top players took part in it. We think that we have our program in good shape right now."

The Belleville Tiger Swim Club finished third in the boys competition at the recent seventh annual Oakland Age Group and Open Swim Meet at Oakland University in Rochester.

John Kause helped the boys team capture third place as he placed in four races in the 10 Years and Under division.

Kause won the 100-yard breaststroke with a time of 1:39.2 and finished seventh in the 50-yard butterfly (45.4), seventh in the 50-yard backstroke (43.1), and ninth in the 50-yard freestyle (36.6).

Mike Stoelton finished third in the 50-yard freestyle (34.0) and fifth in the 50-yard backstroke (42.8) in the Boys 10 and Under division.

The Tigers' 400-yard freestyle relay team and 200-yard medley relay team both finished first in the 11-12 Year division.

All-Area: a record team

If you're looking for a future college basketball star, look around you. The area has produced a crop of excellent prepagers who are among the nation's best.

Five of them: Dave Carlington (John Glenn), Luke Ealey (Robichaud), Ron Bostick (Romulus), Phil Damaska (Livonia Churchill) and John Long (Romulus) have rewritten their respective high schools' record books.

The five outstanding prep cagers make up the 1973 Daily Eagle and Associated Newspapers' All-Area first team. All five were the mainstays of their respective teams, lifting them to championships.

Carlington, a 6-4, 185-pound rugged athlete, is considered the best cager ever to come out of the nine year old Westland high school.

"He made the difference for us this year," said Glenn Coach Gordie Davis whose Rockets won their first Northwest Suburban Conference and district titles this year, finishing with an 18-4 over-all record.

"Dave is definitely the best player we've ever had at Glenn," pointed out Davis. "He scored and rebounded and did things that didn't show up in the box score. He was a clutch player and gave us tremendous leadership by his example."

Co-captain and member of the all-league team the past two years, Carlington scored 463 points in 22 games for a 21.0 average. He made 193 of his 390 field goal attempts for 49 percent and also hit on 77 of 117 free throws for 66 percent.

As a junior Dave scored 235 points in 17 games and holds Glenn's single season and career records for both scoring and rebounding.

Future Glenn cagers will have to erase 11 of Carlington's records.

Long, a 6-5, 190-pound cager who already has piled up 1,200 career points with one more player, the key man in our zone press, which helped us win our big games."

Ealey also has won All-Area recognition in track. The 6-2 senior provided Robichaud with the leadership needed to end the title drought this season in the Mid-Wayne Conference.

A starter for Coach Owen Sudman's teams the past three seasons, Ealey is a member of the "elite 1,000" point club. But the stats don't tell half the story.

Rivals were forced to double team this crack shot, which gave his teammates ample opportunities. He led the team in rebounding and, defensively, handled the responsibility of stopping the opposition's "big man".

"Ealey is a type of player who is a pleasure to coach," said Sudman. "he does everything well and can be relied upon to give you 100 percent each game."

"And, equally important, the other players looked to him for leadership and he was always there to provide it," Sudman added.

year to go, led Coach Dave Court's Eagles to a 23.3 overall record and the district championship.

He tallied 576 points and hauled down 366 rebounds.

Lefty Dreisse of Maryland calls Long, "one of the top 10 players in the nation today."

"Long has great strength which makes him a threat inside as well as the mobility to produce a tremendous outside scoring threat," said Couch Court.

Long, moreover, was named last week to the Associated Press' All-State first team.

Bostick is considered by most college coaches as one of the more promising seniors in the Midwest.

"He has natural jumping ability and speed," said Coach Dave Court and also a knack for the offensive play. Ron also is a very personable young man who had been one of the most dedicated players I have been associated with, a gentleman on and off the court."

The 6-9, 195 senior scored 415 points and hauled down 468 rebounds, which was a school record for one season.

Damaska, a 5-10, 160-pound senior, is the first basketball player in the history of Churchill to make the All-Area team. He has impressive credentials.

Phil scored 414 points in 25 games in helping the Chargers retain the Western Six Conference championship and winning their first district title. He also made 169 of his 400 shots from the field for a 42 percent average and sank 70 of 127 free throws for 62 percent.

But, the ball hawk also stole 51 delinquent passes and accounted for 102 assists which are school records.

An All-Area defensive back, Phil also runs the quartermile for the Chargers.

"He's a leader out on the court and he was the key to our success," said Churchill Coach Pat Montagano whose team posted a 19-6 over-all record. "Phil did it all for us. He is a good outside shooter and he can drive. But he also is an outstanding defensive

Divine Child shattered 'big man' myth

By TOM MOORADIAN

After all is said and done, written and rewritten about the 1973 Michigan High School Basketball Championships, one fact stands above all the rest, in this columnist's opinion: Dearborn Divine Child proved that you don't really need the 'big man' to win a state title.

Over the many years we have covered the scene one complaint from area coaches when discussing their chances to win titles was: "we lack a big man."

Divine Child's tallest man Saturday afternoon was 6-3 Bob Wenson and he was confronted by a 6-8 all-stater in Hudsonville's Unity Christian's Mark Veenstra.

The matchup for the Class B state title between these two finalists appeared to be a "mismatch" in favor of the taller and undefeated Unity Christian quintet.

However, despite Veenstra's 34 point performance, Coach Bill McCartney's Falcons won a 58-54 championship.

And, anyone who saw the game - and there were about 12,000 fans on hand for each of the four state finals - will agree that a solid team performance will always beat an outstanding one-player performance.

We hope that Divine Child's victory forever will lay to rest the "big man" myth.

And the Detroit Public League Basketball champs of 1946, Detroit Northwestern, would like to thank Wayne Memorial and Coach Bill Hawley for coming to its rescue.

Southwestern, which won the title in 1946 planned a "team reunion" Saturday in Ann Arbor but lacked a couple of tickets. Hawley was able to dig them up.

Needless to say that members of the team, including myself, were happy to be on hand to watch the Prospectors win their first state Class A basketball title ever.

The Detroiters stunned Saginaw 66-60.

The champs were almost able to pay back Hawley's generosity the same day. Wayne coaches Lloyd Carter and Doug Garrett were stranded on one of the streets, out of gas. However Carter, the head football coach, had everything under control.

Didn't he Doug?

While we're on the subject of Wayne's coaching staff, it appears that athletic director Bill Elliott is in the market for a new head swimming coach.

Elliott informed us that Rick Savage is leaving the school system to take a position with a business organization.

Savage's major is business administration.

Meanwhile, Savage's counter-part at Westland John Glenn, Al Wachtel, was honored last week at the annual Rocket swim banquet.

Long chosen for All-State

John Long of Romulus is one of 10 players who have been named to the Associated Press' Class-A All-State Basketball Team.

Long, a 6-5 junior forward, was selected to the elite squad along with Tom LeGarde of Detroit Catholic Central, Johnny Davis of Detroit Murray-Wright, Randy McLean of Walled Lake Central, Bob Malaby of Southfield Lathrup, Bob Elliott of Ann Arbor Pioneer, Tim Marshall of Pontiac Central, Greg Johnson of Saginaw, Bob Chapman of Saginaw, and Tom Scheffler of St. Joseph. Dave Carlington of John Glenn was among the players who were accorded special honor.

Long averaged 23.6 points per game as he led Coach Dave Court's Romulus team to a 21-3 record and the championship at the Romulus District Tournament.

In two varsity seasons John has totaled 1,134 points. Long, who is regarded as a tremendous college prospect, averaged 15 rebounds per game for the Eagles during the 1972-73 season.

Bob Elliott has been a fixture in Pioneer basketball for the past three seasons and was easily the top player in the 7-A conference for the second year in succession.

A member of The AP's All-State team last season, Elliott averaged 27.5 points and 20 rebounds a game this year. He has started all but one game in three years on the varsity, a stretch during which Pioneer won 55 and lost only 11.

Coach Eldon Rouse calls Elliott "one of the best players I've had in 24 years of coaching. He goes to the basket better than last year and is an improved shooter."

Chapman, a 6-foot-2, 190-pound senior, was a good player in many departments for the high-powered Trojans.

He averaged 15 points and 12 rebounds a game, hitting 50 per cent of his shots from the floor. He was Saginaw's top defensive player, usually guarding the best player on an opposing team. Chapman made only 14 turnovers at his guard spot all season.

St. Joseph's Scheffler is regarded by many as the finest player to come out of southwestern Michigan since Chet Walker played at Benton Harbor 15 years ago.

The 6-foot-9 senior shot an amazing .611 from the floor, scoring 476 points for a 22.7 average. He grabbed 16 rebounds a game.

Walled Lake's McLean averaged 31.1 points and 24 rebounds a game this season, leading his school to its second straight Inter-Lakes championship.

The 6-foot-8 senior has a single-game high of 49 points and 34 rebounds this season. He is being recruited by more than 100 colleges throughout the nation.

Malaby, only 5-foot-11, is the midjet on the A-team but one of its best all around performers. He averaged 23.6 points and dished out 10 assists a game in leading Southfield's Lathrup to a 20-2 season.

Ambrose breaks 'senior monopoly' on 2nd team

Four standout seniors and a junior who has made his mark as one of the top players in Western Wayne County make up the second team on this year's Daily Eagle and Associated Newspapers' All-Area Basketball Team.

Seniors John Grigal of Garden City East, Roy Johnson of Dearborn Heights Robichaud, Mark Kilbourn of Garden City West, Greg Nero of Inkster and junior Glenn Ambrose of Wayne Memorial are the members of the "second five."

Grigal was East's top player throughout the season as he compiled a 19.2 scoring average for 21 games.

The 6-3½, 180 pound Grigal moved to the pivot this season after playing most of his career as a forward.

"Because of graduation losses we had to move John from forward, which is his best position," said East Coach Billy Joe Young. "He adjusted well to the switch and did a fine job despite the fact that he played with injuries all season long."

John also led the Panthers in rebounding as he pulled down an average of 10.7 per game.

Grigal, who helped East advance all the way to the state quarterfinals as a junior, had two-year varsity totals of 634 points (a 14.7 average) and 406 rebounds (a 9.4 average). He hit on 45.3 per cent of his field goal attempts as a senior and 52 per cent as a junior.

"John has good moves in the low post and he also shoots well from the outside," commented Young. "He's a very dedicated player and he was a great asset to our team."

Johnson was also a big asset to Coach Owen Sudman's Robichaud team.

Roy, a 6-9 guard, scored 501 points, a 23.8 average, as he helped the Bulldogs win a share of their first Mid-Wayne League championship in almost a decade.

Johnson, who could score from the outside or drive to the hoop, connected on 42 per cent of his field goal tries.

"Roy's an excellent ballhandler and he's almost unstoppable going one-on-one," said Sudman. "He sure won a lot of ball games for us this season. If we had a big man to take some of the pressure off him, there's no telling what he might have done."

Johnson averaged 12 points per game for the Bulldogs in 1971-72.

He scored a career high of 37 points in a 72-60 victory over Anchor Bay at the New Haven Christmas Tournament last December and had five other games in which he scored 30 or more points.

Ambrose played both forward and guard as he was instrumental in helping Wayne tie Robichaud for the Mid-Wayne League crown.

The 6-1, 170 pound Ambrose led the Zebras in scoring with an 18.9 average for 20 games. He was also the team's second leading rebounder with an 8.5 average.

Glenn hit on 46 percent of his field goal attempts and 78 percent of his foul shots.

"Glenn's a very talented and versatile player and he has great potential," said Wayne Coach Bill Hawley. "He handles the ball well and is a fine outside shooter. We also feel that he's as good as anyone in the area when it comes to playing one-on-one."

Ambrose provided Wayne with the biggest moment in its basketball history when he scored the winning basket in a late-season 66-64 triumph over Robichaud. The victory enabled the Zebras to tie the Bulldogs for the league title.

Glenn saw his first varsity service as a sophomore, compiling a 7.7 average.

Gordie also serves as a physical education teacher at John Glenn. The 44-year old Davis resides in Westland with his wife, Joanne, and their four children, Larry, Kathy, Annette, and Debbie. With their first Northwest Suburban title behind them Davis and his assistant, Jerry Zukaitis, can look forward to a run of contending teams in the years ahead.

Co-captains Dave Carlington and J.P. McBride will be missing from next season's team but the 1973-74 Glenn edition will be able to rely on three returning starters, some top reserves, and a group of solid players who will be coming up from the junior varsity.

Nero's moves kept the defense off-balance much of the time. He has a "beautiful" jump shot and knows when to pass off.

"He's as deceptive with or without the ball than anyone I have ever seen," said Inkster Coach George Thompson. "He is also a fantastic shot, getting us the key baskets."

"There are a number of major colleges and universities seeking his services, despite our record," Thompson said.

Greg could be counted upon to score at a 16.7 clip and had eight assists per game this season.

Kilbourn was the mainstay of West's title drive throughout most of the season, keeping Coach Chris Babler's Tigers in the thick of the Tri-River Conference title race up to the final week.

He averaged 15.2 points per game, playing in all 21 contests. He climaxed a two-year varsity career by leading his team in rebounds (168), pass interceptions (47) and was 72 percent accurate at the free throw line. He also was the top Tiger in the blocked shots department.

"Mark is the best defensive ball player I have ever coached," said Babler, "he has a lot of quickness and hustled 110 percent."

It didn't take fans long to detect the miscues, pointing out the real Larry Silvestri who muscled into the cutline belonging to Ken Arble—or was it the other way around?

EAST LANSING, Mich. — Panax Corp. has announced record 1972 revenues and profits.

The midwestern newspaper publishing firm said it earned $648,000 on revenues of $23 million last year. In 1971, company profits totaled $346,000 on revenues of $20 million.

Telephone employees give club program

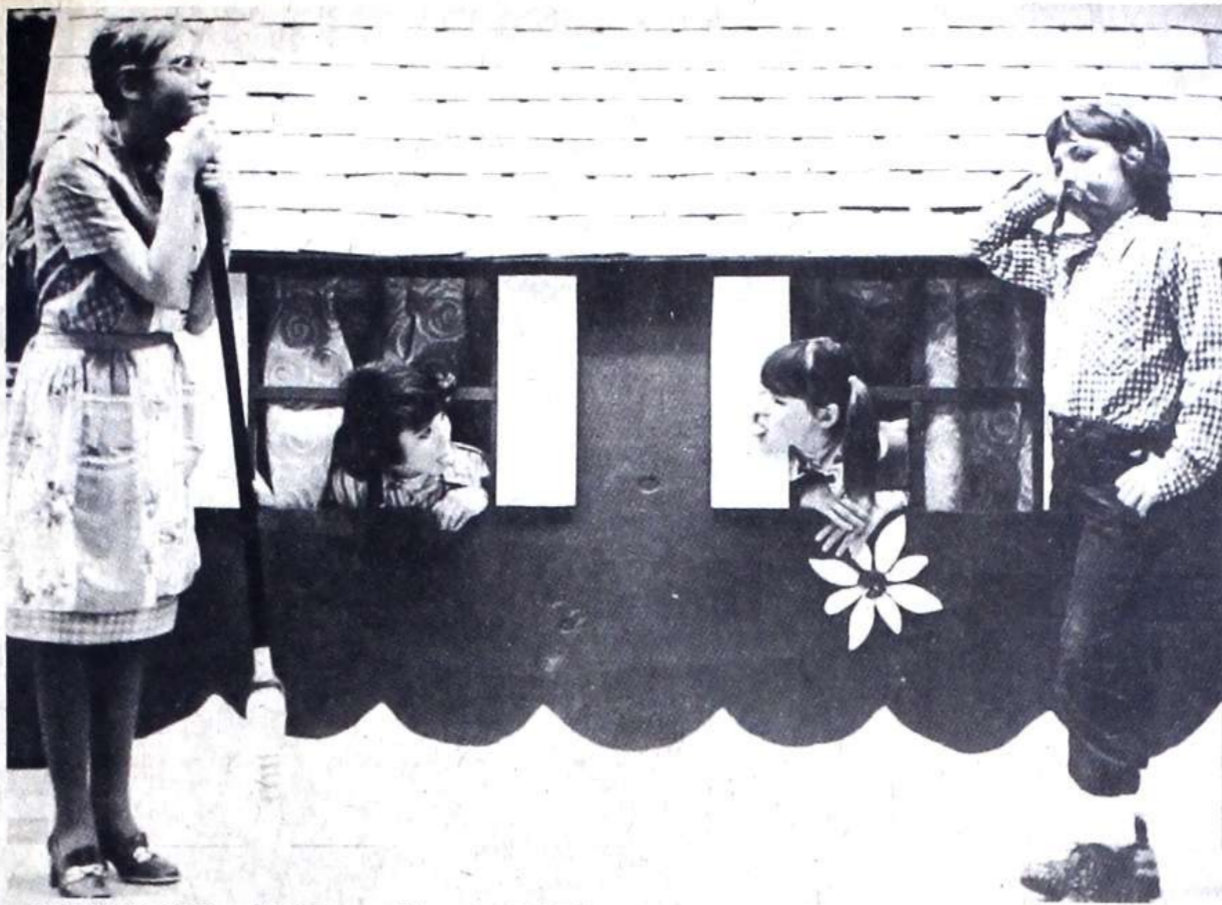

A program titled "All in a Day's Work" was recently presented to members of the Belleville Roatry Club by its March program chairman, Kenneth H. Miller of Belleville.

The program led off with a film which pictured the various kinds of work performed by telephone company employees.

Following presentation of the film, Miller, a Michigan Bell station installation foreman in Detroit, introduced two fellow employees who answered questions from the audience.

The two employees were Beverly Mullens, a telephone installer from Detroit, and David Mann, an information operator from Ann Arbor.

The regularly scheduled meeting was held at the First Methodist Church in Belleville.

"WITCH'S HOUSE" — The Edgemont Elementary School Drama Club (Belleville) presented a one-act musical entitled "The Bad Children" at the Belleville High School Auditorium recently. Two performances were held. One of the highlights

Water quality management subject of public hearing

In response to requests from local units of government and the Huron River Watershed Council, the Federal Environmental Protection Agency is holding a public hearing today on the proposed Water Quality Management Plan for the Huron River Basin.

The hearing was scheduled for 1:30 p.m. at the Sheraton Metro Inn, 8600 Merriman Rd., Romulus, near Detroit Metropolitan Airport. An evening session of the hearing will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

As proposed, the plan calls for construction of a large interceptor sewer to serve western Wayne, eastern Washtenaw and southwestern Oakland counties, transporting sewage to a large treatment plant at the mouth of the Huron River.

Sewage would be discharged, after secondary treatment and 90 per cent phosphorus removal, into Lake Erie one mile off shore from the Pointe Mouillee marshes.

Governmental units that may be affected by the project include:

(1) In western Wayne County: The Cities or Villages of Belleville, Flat Rock, Gibraltar, Northville, Plymouth, Rockwood and South Rockwood, Romulus, Trenton, Woodhaven and portions of all the following townships: Brownstown, Huron, Sumpter, Van Buren, Canton, Plymouth and Northville.

(2) In southwestern Oakland County, the cities or villages of Novi, Walled Lake, Wolverine Lake, Orchard Lake, Clarkston and portions of the following townships: Commerce, White Lake, Springfield and Novi.

(3) In eastern Washtenaw:

The Cities of Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti and portions of all of the following townships: Augusta, Ypsilanti, Superior, Salem, Pittsfield, Ann Arbor and Scio.

A draft environmental impact statement for the project is available from Francis Mayo, regional director, Environmental Protection Agency, Chicago, Ill., 60606.

The statement contains a discussion of the environmental effects of the project and alternatives to it. Interested organizations and individuals are urged to attend the hearing to express their views concerning the project. Statements should be in writing if possible.

The hearing record will be kept open until April 14 for those unable to attend the hearing. Written comments may be sent to EPA's Chicago Regional Office.

DECK KEEPS PACE WITH SEASONS — Small sitting deck relates natural beauty of changing seasons to den-bedroom indoors. Fencing features widely-spaced 1x4s atop solid sections of 1x4-inch western cedar boards for total yet airy seclusion. Deciduous and evergreen plants combined in raised beds faced with 2x3-inch deck boards add form and color contrast to neat setting.

Move an evergreen

Remodel an outdoor 'room'

When family living was all indoors, with many rooms to accommodate all the activities of the various members and walls and windows to provide protection from nature's elements, this is about the time of year when mother would say: "Let's rearrange the furniture."

Now that life has moved outside to be closer to nature, and homes are designed with outdoor "rooms" in mind, that same urge to change things around is perfectly in order.

If one of the outside room furnishings you want to move is an evergreen that just doesn't seem right in its present location, go ahead and move it. Some suggestions from the people who specialize in nature's green, growing gifts, the members of the American Association of Nurserymen, may make the move easier and more successful.

BEFORE YOU make a move, two facts are important. Evergreens are best transplanted when their root growth is most likely to take place — early in the growing season — because they always require moisture. For that same reason, they must be moved with a "ball" of earth around the roots. You'll be wise to wrap the ball in burlap as soon as you dig up the tree and its roots, then keep the burlap moist while you take the next steps in the moving process.

At the new location a hole should be prepared with a six to 12-inch clearance all around and two to three inches deeper than the ball of the earth.

Partially fill the hole with a mixture of good garden loam and peat moss or other composted material, then set the evergreen plant at about the same depth in the new location as it was before the move. (Actually, the soil will settle, so you should set the ball about an inch deeper than its original site.)

PACK ABOUT two to three inches of soil mixture around the sides of the plant. Add more soil until the hole is about half full, pack it firmly, then water it thoroughly. When the water has soaked in, fill the hole to within three or four inches of the top, pack and then cut away the burlap about the stem of the plant, and lay it back on the soil. Finish filling the planting hole remembering to leave a saucer-shaped surface around the base of the plant.

If the evergreen you're moving is fairly large you will want to brace it with guy wires supported with stakes along the outer sides of the hole. Use pieces of old garden hose or leather straps around the tree to protect it against the wire or rope you use.

FINALLY, spread a mulch of peat moss, straw, sawdust or leaves over the loose soil to a depth of about two or three inches. You can leave the mulch through the summer and following winter if you stir it now and then.

During the first growing season after moving day the soil should never be allowed to dry out completely around the evergreen. At the same time, however, the American Association of Nurserymen points out that over-watering is more injurious than under-watering in almost all cases. The watering word for evergreens in a new location is "moist" — not dry, not wet.

Q — The fireplace in our living room leaked smoke into the room for several months after we bought the house. The condition has been corrected, but we now would like to know how to get rid of the smoke stains on the fireplace brick.

A. — Most of the time, the stains will come off with scouring powder and steel wool. If they don't, you'll have to use one of the grease solvent materials and a stiff brush. In either case, be sure to clean the area afterwards with cold water.

It must be admitted, however, that there is a slight calculated risk in cleaning brick, since there is always the possibility that some of the color may come out of the brick along with the stains. A neighbor of mine whose fireplace was covered with smoke stains was able to get all of them out, but found that, unaccountably, some bricks had faded and others had not. He used a water stain to bring the faded bricks back to the color of the others.

Wood deck keeps pace with weather, seasons

Everybody talks about the weather, often fumes about the weather — but the simple fact that we can't do anything about it is no excuse to hibernate indoors several months of the year.

Little wood decks off a bedroom or den can be a real joy not just in summer but all year long. Generous glass doors that open onto a deck also let in the beauties of each season.

Just a 10x10-foot square of Douglas fir or western cedar decking will create an individual patio that makes a room seem both larger and more versatile.

ENCLOSE the deck for private sunning and it also doubles as a mini-track for the jogger who balks at facing the neighbors. Exercise gains a healthful boost from a fresh air setting, however cool.

Solid, confining walls are avoided by fencing in two sections horizontally. On the bottom, 1x4-inch western cedar boards seclude the deck. Cedar 1x1s spaced an airy two inches apart form a decorative top section. Decking can be 2x3 or 2x4-inch lumber.

When traditional interiors set the decorating theme, rich solid color stains may suit deck and fencing best. For a modern note, showcase natural wood through semi-transparent colors.

A bit of garden green can be enjoyed on the smallest deck, if only a pot of geraniums or a single evergreen in a corner.

BORDER BEDS are especially attractive and practical with a ground level deck built over a layer of gravel. Topsoils can be heaped over gravel for a planting strip that creates nearly ideal bedding and drainage conditions.

Surround the strip with a low base of preservative-treated deck boards and it will have the neat charm of a container garden.

What's new on the market?

THE PRODUCT — A strong plastic adhesive that dries clear.

Manufacturer's claim — That the adhesive is a "super-strength" material that sets in only a few seconds at room temperature ... That it is made of cyanocrylate, with the bonding mechanism triggered by the moisture in the air ... that it will bond metals, plastic, alloy, glass, ceramic, rubber, vinyl and just about any clean, nonporous surface ... and that it is especially useful for repairing toys, household utensils and other items that ordinarily are thrown out when damaged.

THE PRODUCT — An aluminum can top-cutter to make possible the use of all-aluminum cans as useful objects.

Manufacturer's claim — That this is the first cutter that takes off the top of the can yet leaves a section as a reinforcing ring around the rim ... that this permits cans without tops to be decorated with self-adhesive paper and used as desk pencil holders, planters, vases and dozens of other items ... and that the cutter was developed after consultation with national environmental organizations.

Chamber hosts pupils

The Romulus-Metro International Airport Chamber of Commerce hosted four of the sixth grade children from Mt. Pleasant School for an informal discussion on the inner workings of a Chamber of Commerce and its purpose.

At the beginning of the present school year the School Supt. Robert McConeghy set up a Career Education Program Committee headed by James Garfield, assistant superintendent, which was formally authorized by the Romulus Board of Education at its Dec. 6 meeting. During this meeting Elbert Sheffield, director of careers and vocational education used as an illustration the setting up of a model car assembly line.

Shortly after this board meeting, Harold Cannon, Principal of Mt. Pleasant School, presented the idea of more career education at the school and discussed various ideas with the Mt. Pleasant staff.

Mrs. Diane Golka and Mrs. Donna Allen along with John Boyless, a student teacher from EMU built upon this with job interviews, job descriptions, etc., as well as several other companies.

THIS RESULTED in a visit from the Mt. Pleasant School children, who are directly involved in the school project, to the Chamber on March 5.

An informal discussion took place between children and Chamber President Richard Enright; executive board director and Secretary Dolores Ristow, and directors Doug Baum and Richard Mach.

Questions covered were: What type of jobs available in Romulus? How many are open at end of school year for children?; and the most important was, What type of training is needed today for a job in the future?

Along with that were questions on how the Chamber really works; such as with elections, getting new membership, what is the basic function of a Chamber, and what does a Chamber in Romulus hope to accomplish.

President Enright explained that on a long range basis the Romulus Chamber at present would like to see a lot of time spent assuring that there are many jobs available in Romulus for children coming out of school this summer.

Enright also outlined inner Chamber functions, activities, and processes and elaborated on the objects of the Chamber such as: to advertise, promote, foster, and encourage wholesale, retail, industrial, tourist business, professional, financial, educational, civic and recreational interests and advantages of the community of Romulus, and zone of influence; to promote cooperation in matters of interest to the same; to create and maintain higher standards in business and professional dealings, to correct trade abuses; to compile and distribute information to its members; to aid and protect its members; to procure laws and regulations desirable for the benefit of business in general.

DOUG BAUM, the Romulus Chamber's first president, explained how the Romulus Chamber originally was organized and why the businessmen in Romulus thought their community needed a Chamber of Commerce.

Dolores Ristow, Chamber executive director and secretary, detailed some of the programs the Chamber has instituted and the goals the Romulus Chamber has been trying to accomplish along with Chambers all around community interest, both now and in the future.

The "Theft Guard Program", recently instituted in Romulus, was of great interest to the children because they each knew of an occasion where the program may have averted a misfortune especially on their level, bicycles.

The Romulus Chamber donated $50 toward the "Theft Guard" fund which involves engraving personal belongings with the owners drivers license number. On items belonging to children such as bicycles it would be the parents identification that would prevail.

Refreshments were served after adjournment and the children went back to school, each with visions of being a "Mr. Rockefeller" but knowing that it takes planning and hard work to make it.

VB Board of Review hears 79 tax cases

The March sessions of the Van Buren Township's Board of Review disposed of 79 cases involving 1973 property tax assessments, said Township Supervisor and Assessor G. Elton Gollwitzer.

Seventy-nine people came before the board of review to discuss property tax assessments. Hardship cases accounted for 44 of the property tax assessment cuts approved by the board of review. There were corrections made in another 17 cases, Gollwitzer said. Only in three cases were protests lodged by the property owner.

The reductions ordered by the board of review approximated $194,990 which included the hardship cases.

The corrections made were to rectify clerical errors made in the tax assessments, Gollwitzer pointed out.

The supervisor also reported that the township's tentative State Equalization Valuation (SEV) for 1973 showed a ten per cent increase from $95 million plus in 1972 to $105 million plus for the current year.

About seven per cent of the SEV is due to township growth, the supervisor added.

The township's final and official SEV determination awaits further work on the part of the Wayne County Bureau of Taxation in Detroit.

Lenten sermon

A week changed world's destiny

Editor's note: The following is the fifth of a series of Lenten sermons by area clergymen. This week's article was submitted by the Rev. Harold E. Koch, pastor of Lutheran Church of the Apostles in Belleville.

By REV. HAROLD E. KOCH

The week that changed the world and her history is commemorated beginning next Sunday, Palm Sunday.

On that day some 140 years ago, people crowded the streets of Jerusalem to sing their praises, to pave the street with palm branches, to shout their "Hosannas" as Jesus the Christ rode humbly into town on the back of a donkey.

How quickly these same voices shouted "Crucify Him!" as the fiasco of a trial was conducted by Herod and the high priest.

Calvary's hill was crowded with spectators who had been whipped to a fever pitch by the anticipated excitement of witnessing three crucifixions. But the words from the center cross caused consternation. How could one being treated so cruelly ask forgiveness for the perpetrators of the crime.

The quickness and peacefulness with which death came to Jesus the Christ mystified the crowd further.

THREE DAYS LATER the words, "He is not here. He is risen," utterly amazed and astounded the hearers. "This can't be; it's too good to be true," were on the lips and in the hearts of all who had longed for a Savior.

So great was that week's impact that all time is divided into "before Christ (B.C.)," and "A.D., anno domini, in the year of our Lord." Eternity entered time. Death was abolished. Life took on a complete new meaning and complexion.

Love and forgiveness became meaningful words as never before as did the word servant.

Lent is the time of year for contemplation of the events and meaning of that great week. The Gospel writers devoted fully one-third of their accounts to our Lord's Passion and Resurrection. How much of your time is spent meditating on the significance of that week in your life?

May your "Christ is risen! Alleluia!" be rich in meaning because you see Easter as the glorious culmination of man's futile attempt to shut God out of his life with God emerging the ultimate Victor. Have a blessed and meaningful Easter!

NEW PARISH COUNCIL — The parishioners of St. Anthony's Catholic Church in Belleville have a newly constituted Parish Council which includes five new members. Installation was held Sunday, March 25, with the pastor, Rev. Raymond Skoney, officiating. In front row, from left, are

Euriskon program planned

"Euriskon" will come to the Community United Methodist Church, 11190 Olive St., Romulus at 7 o'clock the evenings of April 8-12.

Five new members were elected March 11 will represent parishioners on the council.

The five elected are: Keith (Bill) Bowles, Michael Ives, William Jenkins, Jack Loria and Robert D. Marble. Alternates are Lawrence Elden and Tom Salutz.

With the election of the five new members four of the present Parish Council will conclude their terms. They are Emma Greca, Odeleee Hoeft, Sam Villa, Sr., Ted Center. Marble was re-elected to the council.

The new members will join Joyce Bujak, Eunice Demick, Rick Dine, Lucille Remus, Sister Joan and Betty Tontalo to form the Parish Council in assisting with the pastor and various commission members in all phases of the religious and operational demand of the parish.

Under the directives of the church of the Archdiocese of Detroit, each parish chose from among its members a Parish Council. This council was to reflect the lived faith-life of the community.

St. Anthony Parish elected its Parish Council in 1970 with Theodore H. Kuckelman serving as the first president.

Mahalak seeks benefits vote

State Rep. Edward E. Mahalak (D-Romulus) has introduced legislation to place before voters a $266 million bond issue to pay for bonuses and educational benefits for veterans of the Vietnam era.

The bill is an alternate to another proposal by Mahalak for a $100 million bond issue referendum to finance bonuses only. "I personally feel that veterans of Vietnam are entitled to both the bonuses and education benefits, but these two proposals will give us a choice."

Voters last November turned down a proposal for a similar $266 million bond issue, but Mahalak attributes the defeat primarily to the fact that there were other proposals on the ballot at the same time, several of them controversial issues. "It would seem," he stated, "the voters simply turned down everything. I think they should have another chance to vote on this veterans' benefit proposition."

The proposal would be on the November 1974 ballot. Mahalak's bill calls for a service bonus of $500 for "combat veterans" — those who received the Vietnam Service Medal or the Armed Forces Expeditionary Medal. Other veterans of the Vietnam era would be entitled to bonuses of $15 for each month of service, not to exceed $360.

If a veteran is deceased, the bonus would go to his beneficiary.

All of the veterans could receive educational benefits of as much as $500 per year for four years. If the veteran accepted the service bonus, it would be deducted from his educational benefits.

A child of a veteran officially listed as missing in action would be entitled to four years of educational benefits.

The benefits would be limited to honorable discharged veterans who served at least 190 days or died of service-connected causes and who were Michigan residents for at least six months before entering the service.

The educational benefits could be used for tuition, fees and books at any accredited school in the state.

The Vietnam era is specified as the period between Jan. 1, 1961, and either Jan. 1, 1974, or a date determined by Congress that officially ends the Vietnam conflict.

The U.M.Y.F. is planning a number of work projects which will enable them to earn money to go to the Espanola Mission Field in New Mexico in the summer of 1974. The young people will also be serving Easter Breakfast after the Sunrise Service at the Community United Methodist Church.

If you know the addresses of members of the Romulus High School Classes of 1940 through 1949 who have moved recently, please phone them into Ruth Mach Clark, chairman of the big class reunion being planned May 12. Her number is PA-1-2497. The reunion for the 10 classes will be held at the Romulus Progressive Club Hall on Ozga Road and will include dinner, dancing and cocktails. Class members (need not have graduated) and their husbands or wives are cordially invited; the price is $6.25 per person and reservations should be made before May 1. Ruth Mach Clark may also be called if further information is wanted.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant VanAernum of Romulus Avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Krueger and sons of Romaine Street visited last Sunday at the home of a niece, and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Tavernie, near Leslie, Michigan. On this occasion the birthdays of Mr. VanAernum and Mrs. Harry Jones of Leslie were celebrated. Mrs. Jones is Mrs. Tavernie's Mother and a sister of Mrs. VanAernum.

Wayne County 4-H members will participate in a Share the Fun Program dubbed "A New Day - A New Way" on Saturday, April 7 at Westland Mall. The public may attend.

10 square feet of greetings

The Girl Scouts of Troop 340 at Mt. Pleasant School, Romulus, recently sent a labor of love — a two-foot by five-foot get-well card of their own making to a little girl they didn't even know.

Andrea Maher of Battle Creek was the subject of an item in a Detroit paper. The four-year-old girl is very ill and spends most of her time in bed. Wanting to express their feelings, the girls concocted the card and sent it to Andrea.

The girls in the troop are Kayin Silvey, Cheryl Tharp, Mary Sweet, Zina Matheny, Donna and Linda Schonscheck, Donna Sirhan, Debbie Skura, Stacy Fenchel, Dawn Collins, Marcia and Mickey Laginess, Dora Gilbert, Kim Rodd, April Hutchinson, Donna Bergmooser, Kim Czarnoszyz, Terri Ellis, Sandy and Susan Minnaugh.

Troop leaders are Judi Ellis and Pat Schonscheck.

Continuing Education classes start April 9

The Romulus Continuing Education series of five weeks of enrichment classes begins April 9. All activities are to be held at Romulus High School, 9650 S. Wayne Rd., Romulus.

Registrations may be made by calling 941-1600 Ext. 37 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Adult high school and community college classes are scheduled to resume in September. Interested individuals may call for a pre-enrollment counseling before June 1.

The General Education Development Test (GED) also will be given by the school in May. Testing dates will be announced in this newspaper at a later date.

William R. Smith, community school director, also encourages adults who wish to take driver training to contact the Continuing Education Office before June 30.

The spring schedule includes:

Monday, April 9, Crocheting, 7-9 p.m., $7, 5 weeks; Cake Decorating I, 7-9 p.m., $7, 5 weeks; Macramé, 7-8 p.m., $5, 5 weeks; Karate (starts 4-30), 7-9 p.m., $15, M-W (16-hr.); You & the Law, 7-9 p.m., $7, 5 weeks; Creative Dance for Women, 7-9 p.m., $7, 5 weeks.

Local firm low bidder

State highway officials said today that the $6.6 million relocation and widening of 2.5 miles of I 94 near Willow Run Airport will be completed by August, 1975.

Thompson-McCully Co., Belleville, was lowest of six bidders on the project Monday in Lansing.

The project includes construction of an interchange with Rawsonville Road and widening to six lanes from west of Rawsonville Road east to near Borgman Road.

It was among 48 projects at which bids totaling $19.3 million were taken by the department.

The widening and road relocation is part of a program now under way to widen all of I 94 to a six-lane divided freeway from near the Detroit Metropolitan Airport to U.S. 23 near Ann Arbor. I 94 is now a six-lane divided freeway from downtown Detroit to near the airport.

Bloodmobiles to visit area

To insure a continuous supply of safe, volunteer blood, Red Cross bloodmobiles this month will be located throughout the community. Schools, churches and fraternal organizations will play host to Michigan's only all volunteer blood collection agency.

The Red Cross Blood Program obtains blood donations from approximately three per cent of the eligible donors in the area. Un-

YOU CAN STILL GET A NEW DATSUN 1200 AT THE OLD PRICE.

The dollar has been devalued. But if you act right now you can still save big on a Datsun 1200 sedan or Coupe. There's never been a better time to test drive Datsun's value leaders. The 1200 Sedan and Coupe are Datsun's lowest priced models, but they don't look it or act it. Up front is a high cam engine that does zero to sixty in under 15 seconds and also delivers up to 30 miles of economy to the gallon. And both models have many features you wouldn't expect to find on an economy car. Safety front disc brakes, reclining bucket seats, vinyl upholstery, full wheel covers and whitewall tires. Stop by your Datsun Dealer soon and get the best price of the year on a Datsun 1200 with 4 speed stick or optional 3 speed automatic.
